CITY TAX UPHELD
ON CAPITAL STOCK
OF NATIONAL BANKParis Rules Levy of $325-475 Against First National Last Year Is Legal
by Act of Congress.BUDGET TROUBLES
FOLLOWED SUITSMunicipal Appropriations
Cut When Six Institutions
Refused to Meet Levy
Totalling $757,066.

Holding that the State has a right under an act of Congress to levy taxes on a National bank, Federal Judge Faris today dismissed the suit of the First National Bank to enjoin the city from collecting $325,475 in taxes on its capital stock for the year 1924.

It was the refusal of the First National and five other banks to pay their capital stock taxes in 1924 which contributed to a $757,066 deficit in city funds for the year. This deficit, reaching over into 1925, caused cuts in the budgets of many departments, notably the Park Department, which put in force a consequent curtailment of recreational facilities.

Others refused to pay.

Altogether the banks have refused to pay $757,066. They filed injunction suits simultaneously on Jan. 2. Besides the First National, they are: National Bank of Commerce, $274,925; Merchants-Laclede National Bank, $62,435; State National Bank, $62,537; National City Bank, $28,964; and St. Louis National Bank, $18,668.

The First National Bank was joined in the suit by Joseph D. Bascom, chairman of the board of the Broderick & Bascom Rope Co. and a holder of stock in the bank. The complainants set out that Bascom had paid the city tax on his stock and that the attempt of the bank to collect taxes on the stock from the bank would constitute double taxation, if successful.

Dismissed. Ordered.

Judge Faris' order to dismiss was given on a motion to that effect argued some days ago by both sides. The officers of the city named in the suit as defendants were the Assessors, Collector and members of the Board of Equalization.

The court pointed out in its opinion that the State cannot tax national banks except by specific authority of Congress. This authority, he declared, was obtained by an act passed in March, 1923.

"The fact that Bascom voluntarily paid as income taxes a proportion of the dividends on his stock, which he could have resisted successfully, does not absolve the bank from payment of taxes upon the stock," the court held. The failure of Bascom to establish the right of exemption from taxation as far as the stock dividend was concerned constituted no estoppel, it was stated.

MURDER, IN CHICAGO "L" CRASH

Empty Train Runs Into an Express Near Thirty-Fifth Street Station, on South Side.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Pierce Moore, an employee, was killed, and five or more passengers severely injured, in a rear-end collision of two elevated trains on the South Side line of the Chicago Rapid Transit Co. near the Thirty-fifth Street station, this afternoon.

Officials of the elevated company said none of the passengers were seriously injured. Moore, a company employee, was standing on the rear platform of the forward train when the crash occurred.

An empty train crashed into a northbound Howard avenue express train, and one of the coaches was thrown from the rails, but remained on the elevated structure.

A BEAR FOR PUNISHMENT

YONKERS, N. Y., June 26.—The Brooklyn husband who recently celebrated his thirty-third appearance in court on summons from his spouse is a veritable tyro compared with the Yonkers entry in the matrimonial suit stakes.

Making their hundredth appearance there the marriage of William Smith, 45 years old, was accused by his wife, Mrs. Rose Smith, 51, with being in arrears in alimony. Smith was held for trial.

CAPITAL LEVY PLAN DEFEATED

PARIS, June 26.—The Chamber of Deputies Finance Committee rejected by a vote of 19 to 14 the Bonapartists' proposal for a capital levy.

'GIVE UP SCHOOLS BEFORE
BIBLE,' GOV. PEAY SAYSTennessee Executive, However, Asserts State Will Retain Both in Defending Anti-Evolution Statute.

DAYTON, Tenn., June 26.—Gov. Austin Peay of Tennessee declared in a letter, made public here today, that "any State had better dispense with its schools than with its Bible." The letter was written to Supt. Walter White of the Rhea County Schools in connection with the case of J. T. Scoopes, who is to be tried here next month charged with violating a State law by teaching evolution in Rhea County schools.

"The State of Tennessee," the Governor wrote, "has the right to say that the minds of her children shall not be destroyed by teachers who poison those minds with stuff that no science has established, and which belongs in no reputable textbook."

In regard to a question as to whether he would be a witness in the case, the Governor wrote: "I know of no fact which could conceivably be useful to either side in that suit as a witness.

"The case should be tried in an hour. It is about as simple a proposition as could be stated and the great hurrah about it is unnecessary and unfortunate. The statute, I have no doubt, is entirely constitutional. We have the right to say through our law-making body that the faith and religion of our children shall not be destroyed by teachers who poison their minds with stuff that no science has established, and which belongs in no reputable textbook."

"I have a profound contempt for those who are throwing slurs at Tennessee for having this law. In my judgment any State had better dispense with its schools than with its Bible. We are keeping both."

ETLING FRAUD CHARGES
DROPPED BY STATEAction Follows Granting of
New Trial to Former Deputy Given Two Years.

All efforts of the State to bring to justice those responsible for the widespread tax assessment frauds, exposed here in the fall of 1923, have been abandoned.

This was definitely determined today when the State dropped charges of fraud against William P. Etling, former Chief Deputy Assessor, and charges of third degree forgery and bribery against William E. Caulfield Jr., a former clerk in the Assessor's office.

Etling had already been convicted of fraud and his penalty fixed at two years in the penitentiary. Circuit Judge Taylor granted him a new trial, however, and his decision in effect sets aside the verdict of the jury. The State feels that it could not present a strong case.

Judge Taylor granted Etling a new trial last Friday, after he had been convicted May 12 of a fraud charge specified as altering a public record. The jury deliberated less than two hours. The case was made on the testimony of Charles Enger of 5207 Lansdowne avenue, who declared he gave Etling $300 for reducing his assessment from $8000 to $2200.

Judge Taylor declared that testimony showed Etling was born and reared in St. Louis and bore an excellent reputation. He pointed out that his conviction was obtained on the testimony of a man who admitted a part in the fraud. He declared there was no specific evidence to show Etling falsified records and that such a conclusion could be reached only inferentially.

"The interests of justice demand Etling have a new trial," he Court concluded.

In filing a nolle prosequi in the case today, Assistant Circuit Attorney Wilson declared in a memorandum that if the evidence in the case did not convince the Court then the State could not hope to make another case. He said the State was in possession of no additional evidence. On this consideration, he not-prosecuted not only the Enger case, but another charge of fraud against Etling which has not yet been tried.

Against Caulfield the State had two charges of third-degree forgery and bribery. As these cases were considered much weaker than the Etling cases, Wilson also not-prosecuted them.

LAKE FORMED BY LANDSLIDE IS
6 MILES LONGNature Dams River in Wyoming and Valley Is Transformed.

JACKSON, Wyo., June 26.—The geography of the Jackson Hole region was permanently changed by the landslide of Tuesday, forest officials say. The Grosventre Valley above the natural dam, formed when the north end of Sheep Mountain crashed into it, will become a lake more than a mile in width, six to seven miles long and nearly 200 feet deep. It will take four weeks, it is estimated for the river to fill the lake.

The slide was preceded by earth tremors, which were felt here Sunday. Another tremor was felt yesterday, and it is feared that further slides may occur.

RECORD PRICE FOR
SEAT ON STOCK EXCHANGEMembership Transferred for $120-000—Names of Brokers Involved Are Withheld.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The soaring value of the New York Stock Exchange seats today resulted in the transfer of a membership for $120,000, the highest price paid in the history of the Exchange.

The deal broke a previous high record, established only yesterday, when S. F. Street, president of the Stock Clearing Corporation, disposed of his seat for $116,000, which bettered by $1000 the high mark reached in the bull market of 1920.

Officials of the New York Stock Exchange declined to reveal the names of the brokers involved in the transaction until formal approval of the sale had been given. Unconfirmed reports were circulated that another Stock Exchange member was considering an offer of $127,000 for his seat.

TWO MEN GET FIVE YEARS

FOR $1450 PAYROLL ROBBERYA Third Repudiates Confession in Connection With Cramer Dry
Plate Co. Hoax.

Two of three men who held up an officer of the G. Cramer Dry Plate Co., 1921 Shenandoah avenue, outside the plant June 6, and escaped with $1450 in payroll money, pleaded guilty to robbery charges today, and were sentenced by Circuit Judge Taylor to five years in the State penitentiary.

They were Lionel Whitworth, a former policeman, of 731A Walton avenue, and Edward C. Coyne, 2413 Lemay avenue. A third man, charged with the robbery, John Allison, has repudiated a confession which, he says, was forced from him, and is awaiting trial. Coyne told the judge today that he planned the robbery with Whitworth and Allison, and Whitworth added that he and Allison were the ones who fired revolvers in effecting the robbery.

Many Americans Among Those Pre-

LONDON, June 26.—One thousand guests, including a number of Americans, last night attended the court at Buckingham Palace and were presented to King George and Queen Mary. King George wore an informal Royal Horseguards blue uniform. Queen Mary was dressed in a gown of pure gold brocade with a pale blue train.

The royal circle was smaller than usual but otherwise the brilliant function followed the customary routine.

MARKET CONTROL
BILL DEFEATED
BY ALDERMENMeasure Would Have Placed Management of the New City Institution in Hands of Comptroller.

The Board of Aldermen today defeated, 17 to 11, the bill authorizing the Comptroller to conduct the new Union Market and garage, built with bond issue funds and expected to open before the end of July.

The board's action marked the success of the Safety Director Brod, acting for Mayor Miller, in blocking the measure by means of threats that Aldermen supporting the bill would be deprived of patronage.

The amendment favored by the Miller forces, which would place the Market in control of the Director of Public Safety, was not presented, as the opposition to the Comptroller's bill found itself strong enough to defeat the measure outright.

Today's meeting was the last to be held by the Aldermen before adjournment for vacation, which continues until mid-September. With no legislation passed to provide for the control of the new market and garage, and no appropriation to operate them, city officials are not certain what the city can do to place the facilities at the disposal of the public. The bill which was defeated carried a $50,000 appropriation for operation of the market and garage.

Two bills sponsored by Mayor Miller were sent back to committee by the board, which means that they will be dormant throughout the summer months, but can be revived when the board meets again in the fall, and reported back once more if the committees see fit.

One of these was the bill in which the Mayor sought an appropriation of $15,000 for investigation of various departments, the expenses to be listed in general terms. The other was a measure taxing nonresidents of Missouri for the use of the Free Bridge.

The investigation bill had been passed down to $5000 by the Board of Estimates and Appropriations yesterday, but the Board of Aldermen rejected the amendment before referring the bill back to committee.

GRAFT INQUIRY BILL
BACK TO COMMITTEEOrdinance to Tax Non-residents of Missouri for Use of Free Bridge Also Laid Over.

Words and parliamentary jockeying for three hours in the Board of Freeholders last night failed to shake the whip from the hand of the St. Louis County members, and they put through their program to control the organization with a monotonous regularity of their temporary majority in the board.

It was made apparent that the county freeholders intend to dictate to the best of their ability, which has been demonstrated as considerable, whatever plan of metropolitan expansion may be presented to the electorate by the board. The organization was carried out, as predicted in an exclusive account of the county's majority report in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, by making former City Counselor Henry S. Caulfield, a city freeholder, chairman, without much power except to preside, and by giving the county majorities on the three important committees created.

When the 16 Circuit Judges of St. Louis and Mayor Miller chose the city freeholders, a month ago, they gave the county its present advantage by selecting as one member Mrs. Ernest R. Kroeger, who was in Europe, a fact which they knew at the time. However, the vote appointing her was 9 to 8, and the county majority in the board, which was exercised with telling effect last night.

Majority Report Adopted.

Last night's debate was over the adoption of the county's majority report of the Committee on Permanent Organization or the city's minority report. The minority, as was told yesterday, favored equal representation of city and county on all committees, leaving it to the chairman to name the committees, while the majority named the committee members with the county preponderant.

City freeholders condemned the county's grip bitterly for its attitude, while county members defended themselves. The whole debate served to align the groups against each other, although members of both sides decided this. In the minority report of the city members of the Committee on Permanent Organization, former Circuit Judge Rasseleur, the chairman, said:

"The minority submits that the manner of naming the principal standing committees is violative, not only of every principle of fair play, but violates, also, the spirit of the amendment to the Constitution under which this board was created and is operating. In the respect that equal representation for city and county was manifestly intended by the provision that there should be an equal Board of Freeholders from city and county, notwithstanding the fact that, in wealth and population and number of voters, the relation of city and county stands at approximately ten to one.

"Furthermore, the equality of representation of city and county and the principle of fair play are additionally violated by the fact that, without consultation with, or obtaining the consent of, the group of nine city freeholders, the county majority in the Committee on Permanent Organization has arbitrarily selected certain city members for membership on the said three standing committees. The city group, as a whole, should have the right to indicate which of its members it wishes to be on the committee, and the three county members constituting the majority of this committee on permanent organization have no right to ride over the nine city members by arbitrarily picking the city representatives on those important committees.

Protect Against Unfairness.

"In view of the provision in the Constitution that the city and the county are entitled to equal representation in the Board of Freeholders, we think that the first evidence of bad faith emanated from the county when, on June 15, a

MISSING HEIR IN

Amusement Concession.

VENICE, Cal., June 26.—For a piece of silver one can buy three dollars worth of bull's-eye in the amusement concession district here which, when squashed, hits, causes a negro to drop from his high perch into a pool of water.

Someone hit the bull's-eye last night and the negro fell smack into the arms of three detectives, who peeled off his blackface makeup and revealed him as Jack Durand, adopted son of a Chicago millionaire, and wanted by police of that city in connection with a series of burglaries.

Durand admitted his identity, the detectives said, but denied complicity in the burglaries.

"I didn't do anything in Chicago," they quote him as saying. "Somebody just squawked."

He was taken to the Los Angeles city jail pending further instruction from Chicago.

JAMES T. DRUMMOND DIES

James T. Drummond, 52 years old, of 3235 Pershing avenue, manager of the advertising department of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. and a son of the late James T. Drummond, who was head of the Drummond Tobacco Co., died unexpectedly at breakfast in the Racquet Club today. He had suffered from heart disease for several months.

He is survived by Mrs. Drummond, who was formerly Miss Grace Greenleaf of Minneapolis, and a daughter, Mrs. Alonzo C. Church, formerly Miss Doris Drummond, of 4950 Lindell boulevard.

The funeral will be tomorrow at an hour not yet determined.

Drummond was second vice president of the Drummond Tobacco Co. before it was absorbed by the American Tobacco Co.

BRITISH VESSEL AND 6 LAUNCHES

Gulf, Off Mexico.

MOBILE, Ala., June 26.—The British schooner Marion Adams and six motor boats have been seized in the Gulf of Mexico by Coast Guard vessels, according to information received by Federal authorities, together with 6000 cases of whisky and 23 prisoners.

The vessels, men and liquor are being towed to this port.

Those who were able to make their way out of the building scarcely knew how they escaped.

Exits of the theater, which was on the second floor, were few. Three was the main entrance and a rear exit behind the stage. Both led down a confused arrangement of hallways and stairs of wood, which crumbled in a moment under the falling building.

The rear exit was cut off first. Two youths who got to the stairway behind stage were hurled through a rafter and found themselves suspended over the alley. They dropped on a fireman on a loading dock below, who broke their fall. The fireman's feet were pushed through the rotten boards of the dock by the impact of the falling bodies.

Stories gathered from survivors indicated the front exit must have been cut off by the collapse of the theater floor, but none of those who reached safety by that avenue could tell clearly how they escaped. Injured men were seen running from the building and some were dragged out of the debris.

Picture Was Being Shown.

The theater, in the North Side, was a burlesque house. The midnight show had just started and a love scene was on the screen when the blast rocked the building, bringing down the balcony as a fall of 4.1 feet.

Whisky Also Reported Taken in Gulf, Off Mexico.

MOBILE, Ala., June 26.—The British schooner Marion Adams and six motor boats have been seized in the Gulf of Mexico by Coast Guard vessels, according to information received by Federal authorities, together with 6000 cases of whisky and 23 prisoners.

The vessels, men and liquor are being towed to this port.

Those who were able to make their way out of the building scarcely knew how they escaped.

Exits of the theater, which was on the second floor, were few. Three was the main entrance and a rear exit behind the stage. Both led down a confused arrangement of hallways and stairs of wood, which crumbled in a moment under the falling building.

The rear exit was cut off first. Two youths who got to the stairway behind stage were hurled through a rafter and found themselves suspended over the alley. They dropped on a fireman on a loading dock below, who broke their fall. The fireman's feet were pushed through the rotten boards of the dock by the impact of the falling bodies.

Stories gathered from survivors indicated the front exit must have been cut off by the collapse of the theater floor, but none of those who reached safety by that avenue could tell clearly how they escaped. Injured men were seen running from the building and some were dragged out of the debris.

Picture Was Being Shown.

The theater, in the North Side, was a burlesque house. The midnight show had just started and a love scene was on the screen when the blast rocked the building, bringing down the balcony as a fall of 4.1 feet.</

WOMAN KIDNAPER GETS

25 TO 40-YEAR PRISON TERM

She Is Still Silent as to What Became of the 3-Year-Old Child.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs.

Mary Jones, convicted Tuesday of kidnaping 3-year-old Raymond of Maluski, March 29, was sentenced to 20 to 40 years in Sing

Sing prison by Judge Collins in General Sessions today. The boy is still missing.

Judge Collins had given Mrs.

Jones until today to tell what she knew of the boy's fate, but she remained silent.

Before imposing sentence, Judge

Collins revealed that a fellow prisoner recently had asked Mrs. Jones why she didn't return the child to his parents. "I can't do that," she said. "The child is dead."

Early today in the prosecutor's office she denied this, claiming the parents knew where their child was

Then she was confronted with

Raymond von Maluski, the boy's father, who insisted he believed his son was dead.

"If my boy were still alive, she would tell where he was to save himself a long prison sentence," he said.

Mrs. Jones showed no emotion when sentenced. Just previously when asked if she had anything to say, she replied: "I only want to ask why the Von Maluskis don't tell the truth."

Judge Collins referred to Mrs.

Jones as "cruel and heartless."

"God only knows what has become of that child," he said, returning to evidence that Mrs. Jones had taken the boy to a lonely place in the Bronx after which all trace was lost.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The great crowd of the six weeks of the last night for admission to the lawroom today to hear Robert

Crowe, State's Attorney, make his closing plea to the jury in the murder trial. Hundreds of persons forced their way into a courtroom which ordinarily seats

50 and long queues extended away from the entrance.

Prosecutor Crowe faced the jury in a fast, conversational tone.

He led with a denunciation of William Scott Stewart and W. W.

O'Brien, the defense attorneys, for their "bribe" throughout the trial.

Defendant himself, Judge Harris Olson and Alexander F. Reich-mann from the defense's allegation that the accusation against Shepherd and his trial were steps in a deliberate conspiracy against Shepherd to prevent him from inheriting the $100,000 estate which he is alleged to have killed with typhoid fever. "I am here because it is my sacred duty to be here," Crowe said.

"They have introduced a new kind of murder here and because of that it is the most important murder trial in the history of Illinois.

Secretary Wilbur Says "We Are Trying Heroically to Keep Down Estimates."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The present strength of the navy and marine corps will be unchanged, Secretary Wilbur indicates today, under preliminary estimates which will be submitted by the Navy Department to the Budget Bureau for next year's appropriation bill.

There are 84,000 men and 8,400 officers provided for at present in the navy, and 19,500 men and 1,100 officers in the marine corps, with the last annual appropriation totaling $289,000,000.

Preparation of next year's estimates has practically been completed and Wilbur expects to submit them to the budget director before July 15. Although he declined to discuss the amount to be requested or details of the program, he indicated that the Hawaiian maneuvers would result in little if any change in the sums to be asked.

"We are trying heroically," he said, "to keep down the totals of the estimates."

Plans for strengthening the navy defenses of Hawaii were worked out some time ago, he pointed out, but he declined to say whether recommendations of the umpires in the recent maneuvers that the naval aircraft strength there be increased, would be advanced in requests for appropriations. It is understood, however, that an adequate sum will be requested for improving the channel and mooring space at Pearl Harbor.

Resco Fitting Machine

Recently I visited four different stores to purchase a pair of shoes. Three of them got out the measuring stick. Not one of the three sizes recommended would fit. The fourth was a Regal store, and for the first time in thirty years my feet (not foot) were measured correctly. Before it was the feet that had to fit the shoe, but this time it was the shoes that had to fit the feet.

(Milton N. Harger, Syracuse, New York)

The ideal shoe is the one that gives the most comfort consistent with style, and to obtain this much needed feature of comfort, it is necessary that the foot be accurately measured as to length, breadth and depth, as when walking or standing. The Resco Fitting Machine does this.

(John Macdonald, St. Louis, Missouri)

I walk constantly for forty-eight hours a week on a concrete floor and have suffered from feet absolutely worn out, until I bought Regal Shoes fitted with Resco Measuring Machine—since then my feet are as fit in the evening as in the morning.

(Mr. M. Peterson, Oakland, California)

You wish your shoes comfortable for walking; then why be measured in them sitting down? Any shoe is comfortable sitting down. Your weight on your feet eliminates guess work and does away with that old problem of "breaking them in."

(Mrs. A. Morris, Fulton, Ky.)

If there is room enough for perfect comfort in your shoes in a standing position, there will be no pinching when you sit down. The old-fashioned shoe clerk proves the case for Resco by asking you to stand up in the new shoe. AFTER he has measured your feet sitting down.

(T. Harry Thompson, Philadelphia, Pa.)

Two men, six feet tall, one weighs 260 pounds, the other 140 pounds. Feet measure alike on the size stick sitting down. Are their shoes the same size? No, the 140 pound man's foot expanded more under pressure when standing so he should have a longer and wider shoe.

I purchased a pair of Regals and wore them from the store with perfect comfort and have worn them every day since, without trouble from either shoes or feet. In fact, for the past ten years I have never enjoyed the use of my feet as I do now.

(Louis Martin, Box 287, Anacortes, Washington)

One foot is usually larger than the other. In most cases it is the left one. Shoes to fit should be measured to the larger foot. The only way to find the larger foot is to stand on a Resco Fitting Machine, and let this new scientific measuring machine tell you the length and width of both feet under the weight of the body.

The scale on the size stick is a futile attempt to combine mathematics and guess work on a measuring machine of old style inefficiency—no person by measuring the length of one foot can tell the size and width of shoes needed for both feet.

(Experience with Resco in the Army). I do not recall a single instance where a fitting was necessary after careful use of the Resco Fitting System, and I have used and seen it used on large numbers of men.

(Wm. S. Robinson, Army & Navy General Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark.)

"It took me less time to buy the shoes than it does to write this letter," says Wilford C. Taylor, a leather buyer, of Baltimore.

Once men hated to give up their old shoes because they dreaded breaking in new ones. After Resco was installed, they were happy to get new shoes for they were assured of a comfortable fit.

(May Flynn, Washington Square College, New York City)

KILLS MAN WHO BRINGS HIS WIFE HOME IN AUTO

Former Kansas City Detective Then Calls Chief of Police and Surrenders.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, June 26.—Seeing his wife return home in a motor car with another man last night, J. L. Green, 38 years old, a former city detective, drew his revolver and killed the man. Immediately after shooting, Green called the Chief of Police. "I've just caught my wife riding with another man and killed him," he said. "You had better come out and get me."

Green and his wife, Mrs. Vina Green, were taken to police headquarters for questioning. Green's victim was identified by a card in his pocket as A. C. Summers, 28. At police headquarters Green, who is now a salesman, said he returned unexpectedly from Marysville, Kan., last night. His wife was not home. His daughter, Emma, 16 years old, returned to the house about 11 o'clock and told him her mother had gone out with a woman neighbor.

About 12 o'clock, Green said, he was on the porch, when he saw a Packard motor car, with his wife and a man in the front seat, drive up in front of the house and stop. The man embraced his wife, Green said.

"I walked out to him and told him, 'You'll never break up any other home,'" said Green. "Then I shot."

Mrs. Green said she and Mrs. Vaughn were driving last night, when Summers invited them to take a ride. Summers, she said, told her he had a son about 18 years old, and that his wife had departed yesterday to visit relatives in Dallas, Tex.

TREATY "GOLGOTHA OF TRUTH" BOUND TO BE RESURRECTED

Ex-Crown Prince, in His Book, "I Seek the Truth," Thus Assails Versailles Peace.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 26.—The book that has been published by the German ex-Crown Prince, "I Seek the Truth," is an uninterrupted attack on the treaty of Versailles. The peace pact of 1919 is designated as a "Golgotha of truth" which is bound to be resurrected. The author does not aim at the annulment of the conditions of the treaty, which "found a crown of thorns in the Dawes plan," but would make the retraction of article 231 of the treaty, which relates to Germany's war guilt, a condition of Germany's entry into the League of Nations.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 1

Tea as a Beverage

Tea first became known in China nearly 3000 years before Christ. In that country tea was greatly prized, both for its remarkable qualities as a beverage and for the almost religious ceremony attached to the drinking of it. Up to the sixth century, tea was used only for medicinal purposes. Even in the seventeenth century it cost $25.00 to $50.00 per pound. All tea caddies were constantly kept under lock and key. Today when even fine quality like "SALADA" costs less than one-third of a cent per cup, it is not surprising that the consumption of tea is increasing tremendously.

MAN TO RE-ELECT DISABLED VETERANS' HEAD FAILS

259 to 176, to Change Constitution—To Inquire Into Little Rock Office.

OMAHA, Neb., June 26.—The disabled American veterans of the World War, in national convention here, decided yesterday against the selection of National Commander Frank J. Irwin, and then adopted a resolution, the most radical of which called for immediate action to rehabilitate the Little Rock, Ark., region office of the United States Veterans' Bureau. The session spent most of its time in the discussion of changes in the constitution to permit Irwin to serve another term. The convention voted 259 to 176 against changing the constitution. The resolutions attacking the Little Rock bureau were placed before the convention by the Little Rock delegation, which said the office is torn by strife and discord and that various officers are fighting among themselves.

TO RE-ELECT DISABLED VETERANS' HEAD FAILS

Rock Office.

June 26.—The American veterans of the World War, in national convention decided yesterday against the resolution of National Commander J. Irwin, and then adopted resolutions, the most ad- of which called for immediate to rehabilitate the Little Ark. region office of the United States Veterans' Bureau.

The session spent most of its time in the discussion of changes the constitution to permit Irwin to serve another term. The con- vention voted 259 to 176 against the resolution.

The resolutions attacking the Rock bureau were placed before the convention by the Lit- tle Rock delegation which said the office is torn by strife and that various officers are fighting among themselves.

BRITAIN PROTESTS TO CHINA AGAINST CANTON SHOOTING

Minister at Peking Delivers
Note to Foreign Office
Concerning Wounding of British Subjects.

By the Associated Press.
PEKING, June 25.—The British Minister today handed a note to the Chinese Foreign Office, formally protesting against the action of the Chinese at Canton last Tuesday in firing upon the British consignment and wounding British subjects.

The French Minister handed a note to the Foreign Office yesterday protesting against the murder of a French merchant, E. Pasquier, who was killed by Chinese rioters in Canton, Tuesday. The note reserved the right to claim indemnity.

Strikers Stone Street Cars in Foreign Section of Shanghai.

By the Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, June 25.—Several crowds of Chinese strikers and rowdies entered the international settlement today, stoned and held up street cars. Later they were dispersed by the police.

Fear Expressed Concerning Missionaries in Interior.

By the Associated Press.

HONGKONG, June 25.—All the foreign missionaries have escaped from Canton, but there are grave fears concerning the fate of some of those in the country districts from whom there has been heard since the outbreak of the anti-foreign movement. This is the report of O. W. McMillan and W. W.
Creighton, American Presbyterian missionaries, who arrived today from Canton.

The anti-foreign propaganda in that city, they said, included anti-American placards. A communistic group was persistently circulating rumors designed to mislead the Chinese public.

and the Hapden Hall, at the south-

GENERAL WHO LED REVOLT IN GREECE BECOMES PREMIER

Pangalos, ex-War Minister, After Harmless Shooting by Troops, Assumes Control of Government.

OLD REGIME HAD TRIED TO HOLD ON

Loyal Troops, However, Returned to Barracks at Sundown and Rebels Took Their Places.

By the Associated Press. ATHENS, June 26.—Gen. Pangalos, former War Minister and one of the leaders of yesterday's revolution, today definitely assumed the Greek premiership.

The movement was started at dawn when antigovernment forces here and at Saloniki seized the telegraph office and cut communication after some harmless shooting. In which blank cartridges apparently were used.

Gen. Pangalos and a number of other officers occupied the engineers' barracks and served an ultimatum on the Government demanding its resignation and holding it responsible for any bloodshed.

Supporting declarations were issued by Admiral Hadjikiakos, former Minister of Marine, from aboard one of the warships, and by the commander of the troops at Saloniki.

Troops Return to Barracks. The Government did not seem disposed to yield at first and remained guarded in the Parliament building. When the sun went down the situation looked serious, with revolutionary troops holding the principal public buildings except the House of Parliament and a few other centers where loyal soldiers remained.

The loyal troops, however, returned to their barracks at the usual time and they were replaced by Gen. Pangalos' men, giving him complete command of the situation. The Cabinet resigned and Admiral Koundouriotis, provisional president of the republic, summoned the parliamentary leaders to discuss formation of a new ministry.

The population seemed apathetic, although Pangalos in a manifesto declared he was carrying out the wishes of the people who demanded the redemption and purification of the country. The revolution was elaborately prepared and was aided by discontent among the officers over the Government's failure to reorganize the military forces.

FEW ASK PERMISSION TO CALL ON PRESIDENT

Coolidge Finding Real Vacation at Swampscott—Press Conferences to Continue.

By the Associated Press. SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., June 26.—President Coolidge is finding the rest here he expected when he left Washington for a summer vacation.

Secluded in a pretentious house on the coast, he has learned after two days' stay that residents of the North Shore realize that he came to Massachusetts for relaxation and few requests are being made for the privilege of calling on him at White Court.

Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Mass., was accorded the honor today of being the first to have a conference with the President, his call being arranged to discuss plans for the occupation of Mr. Coolidge when he goes to Cambridge, July 3, for an address.

Yesterday's rain was followed today by a flood of sunshine which lured President and Mrs. Coolidge outdoors after breakfast for a 15-mile automobile ride to Marblehead, where the Mayflower, the President's yacht, is at anchor.

Mrs. Coolidge, at Salem, stopped at a 2 and 10 cent store and purchased a few articles for the house. Mr. Coolidge is undecided whether he will go to Poland Springs, Me., next week, to participate in the conference of Governors. If he does not, it is believed the Governors will come to White Court to be received by him.

Gasconade County Judge Dies at 70. By the Associated Press. BLAND, Mo., June 26.—Judge Jacob Thompson, 70 years old, of Owensville, died last night. He was filling his second term of presiding justice of the Gasconade County Court and had been District Judge for two terms. He was a Republican. He is survived by a widow, four children and 12 brothers.

LIBRARIAN TELLS OF HIS TRAVELS IN CHINA IN LETTER

Dr. A. E. Bostwick Reports
No Apparent Antiforeign
Agitation in Peking Under Date, May 28.

GRANTED AUDIENCE
WITH PRESIDENT

St. Louisan Visits "Forbidden City" During Tour in Interest of Movement for New Libraries.

Dr. Arthur E. Bostwick, Public Librarian here, in his travels about China in recent weeks for the American Library Association, has seen numerous sights which the ordinary traveler does not encounter, but he had not, at least, until a month ago, observed anything associated with the antiforeign demonstrations that have culminated in the present strife in China.

In a letter to relatives he wrote: "Of course, I am not allowed to see or hear of the anti-foreign agitation." His latest letter, dated at Peking, May 28, to his wife, told of an audience arranged for him for June 1 with the Chinese President, and another letter spoke of the possibility of meeting Gen. Chang-Tso-Lin, the Manchu warlord, and the former Emperor, Dr. Bostwick is making his tour in the interest of having part of the Boxer indemnity fund devoted to establishing libraries in China.

Test of the Letter.

He wrote in the letter to Mrs. Bostwick:

"Visited the Government normal school outside the Chen Mien gate this morning and addressed the students. Went to the swellest such yet given in my honor, by an ex-Prime Minister, Mr. W. W. Yen, head of the Government Finance Commission and Minister to Germany just before the war. He had a selected party of interesting and eminent guests, he was the most eminent artist in Japan, said to get $1000 per his paintings of peacocks.

"There was a member of the cabinet, Mr. Putnam Weale, who was the most eminent artist in Japan, said to get $1000 per his paintings of peacocks.

"Indisposed to leave from Peking, an ex-Prime Minister, a much adviser to the Government, several big Yale men, also editors, lecturers, etc. The lunch was in one of the old palaces, a spot where the Empress Dowager used to read and cogitate. A wonderful grove of ancient cedars grew a paved court in front, and it overlooked a lake where the ladies of the palace used to skate, the Empress Dowager looking on from a pavilion nearby.

Viewed Piousness Buddha.

"In a shrine opening into the main hall is one of the most wonderful and celebrated objects in all China, the Piousness Buddha. Lots of people who live here have never seen it. It is a life-size seated Buddha, carved from a solid block of polished white jade, wearing a gold robe studded with gems. Not only a priceless thing, but it is a great work of art. It was made in Turkistan centuries ago. I could look at it all day. It is arranged with electric light, so as to show the greatest advantage. The eyes are open and the face is smiling, beautiful and sensitive.

"When Xuan Shi Kai was President, he decided to move this Buddha, but every time he started to do it, the Buddha appeared to come one in a dream, saying, 'Do not move me; let me stay where I am.' Moreover, all persons who attempted to carry out the plan within three days! So the object stays. I hope the government will take this tale to heart and not sell it to the Metropolitan Museum. Where it is, in the hidden shrine in the old palace, is supremely beautiful.

"Tonight we all went to a Chinese amateur play given by students. It was a modern piece with the most peculiar plot, but the acting was pretty good. Dr. Bostwick explained to me as it went on.

"I was even more interested in a whole lot of little girls sitting in front of me. One said, 'I am not a girl or woman.' The upper classes, so when they appear they are quite a curiosity. Only once in a while do you see the almond-eyed type, admired by the Chinese. They don't like 'round-eyed' women. They say, 'Foreigners have eyes like water-lilies; ours are like the eyes of swallows.'

Interview With President.

"I am to go to the President's place for an interview on June 1. He lives in the palace on an island where the Emperor Kuang-hsi was imprisoned for two years after the Empress Dowager, Mar. 10, 1911, didn't talk English, so she shall have to converse through an interpreter.

"Friday we drove out about 10 miles to the Emperor's summer palace. It was a beautiful place, with a lake and a garden. The Emperor was here in the summer of 1911, when he was imprisoned for two years after the Empress Dowager, Mar. 10, 1911, didn't talk English, so she shall have to converse through an interpreter.

WORLD C. OF C. DECLARES DEBTS MUST BE PAID

Adopts Resolution Recognizing Difficulty of Task and Urging Precautions in Transferring Money.

FRENCH DELEGATE
FAVORS PAYMENT

Chamber Appeals to Business Men to "Combat Extreme Tariffs and Transportation Curbs."

By the Associated Press.
BRUSSELS, June 26.—The International Chamber of Commerce at its final session here today adopted a resolution declaring that interallied debts must be settled.

Dr. Walter Leaf, chairman of the Westminster Bank of London, was elected president of the Chamber, succeeding Willis H. Booth Jr. of New York, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Co.

The resolution declaring for payment of the interallied debts was vigorously supported by Etienne Clementel, former Finance Minister of France. It says the Chamber recognizes that it is difficult to transfer money to pay the interallied debts as it is to make reparations payments, and that special precautions are necessary to avoid difficulties. Consideration should be given to the economic conditions of the countries concerned, the resolution says.

It appeals to business men of all countries to "combat extreme tariffs, unreasonable customs regulations and restrictions on transportation."

Dawes Plan Upheld.

Contrary to the opinions expressed in some speeches during the convention predicting failure of the Dawes plan, the chamber adopted a resolution affirming the conviction that it is possible for Germany to fulfill her obligations under that plan.

In supporting the resolution for settlement of interallied debts the French delegation pointed out that the burden of war debts must not rest exclusively upon the present generation, and settlements must be arranged in a way to spread payments into the future. The French delegates said they desired to see their Government enter negotiations for a debt settlement in that spirit.

Other resolutions adopted include recommendations of a fixed date for Easter, an international conference for unification of laws governing bills of exchange and checks, an international convention on civil aerial laws, steps to obtain greater facilities for travel and freight traffic across frontiers, and measures to diminish discriminations in the application of customs regulations.

The meeting voted recommendation for the protection of patents, unification of bills of lading and international transport, and a convention on limitation of ship owners' liability.

"No Confidence Unless Governments Recognize Obligations."

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York World.

BRUSSELS, June 26.—John W. O'Leary, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and chairman of the American delegation to the International Chamber, told the international convention that the way to solve the reparations and debt problems is to restore confidence and that the surest method of doing this would be through recognition and funding of debts.

"From the point of view of our business men, said O'Leary today, 'there can be no lasting confidence in international business agreements if Governments fail to recognize their obligations.'

"The precedent that would be set up in ignoring the debts would be more dangerous to those who owe than to the creditors. The people of the United States are clear on this principle, which they believe has proved sound. They believe our Government has taken largely through the confidence fostered by the funding of the British debt.

Carrying Out Will of People.

"Funding of international debts is a problem of government, and must be handled by the Government. In the position the United States has taken on the funding of the debts it is carrying out the will of the American people. We believe our Government has taken full cognizance of the difficulties in paying the debts.

"If the funding of the debts is delayed, the return of confidence will be delayed. The restoration of confidence would provide the greatest aid in the payment."

Progress in Two Years.

O'Leary reviewed the "amazing progress" in the last two years in Britain and the United States. He said American business men believe in the Dawes plan, recognizing that

SAYS NEW ZEPPELINS COULD REACH POLE

Dr. Eckener, However, Considers Los Angeles Unsuitable for Arctic Regions.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 26.—It is the opinion of Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin works, and the man who flew the United States dirigible Los Angeles from Germany to the United States, that Zeppelin airships are now constructed could successfully reach the North Pole. He does not believe, however, that the Los Angeles could be used in exploration in the polar regions of Alaska.

"I consider the Los Angeles," said Dr. Eckener, "notwithstanding its successful trip to the United States, as unsuitable for polar exploration or even exploration in Alaska."

Dr. Eckener added, "If Roald Amundsen's Dornier planes were successful in reaching the North Pole, to repeat the flight next year with an airship."

"My congratulatory message to Amundsen was intended as a reminder to him of our discussion in New York," Dr. Eckener explained. He said the object of his negotiations with the German Traffic Ministry was to reach an agreement with the International Research Society for an aeronautical and seaplane plant at Friedrichshafen. As Dr. Friedrichshafen, the noted explorer, is chairman of the International Society, it is believed an agreement is possible direct with him.

In accordance with his experience, Dr. Eckener said he would use only hydrogen gas for polar trips, as it was the most reliable. Asked if it would be possible for an airship to land at the North Pole despite topographical difficulties, Dr. Eckener replied that he considered a landing at the pole essential in the interest of science. If the funds were forthcoming an airship for traversing the North Pole could be constructed in 15 months. Dr. Eckener admitted that a plan for polar exploration by airship was under way during the life of Count Zeppelin, inventor of the Zeppelin airship, but the collection of funds for the air voyage was interrupted by the World War.

SCIENTIFIC WITNESSES PICKED FOR SCOPES' TRIAL

List of Those Who Will Testify for Defense or Advise, Includes Sunday School Superintendent.

By the Associated Press.
DAYTON, Tenn., June 26.—A list of scientific experts who will be called to testify or advise in the defense of John T. Scopes for violation of the Tennessee law prohibiting teaching of evolution in the public schools is announced by Dudley Field Malone of New York, associated with counsel for the defendant.

The list, made public shortly after Malone's arrival in Dayton yesterday, was published after a conference with John L. Godey and John R. Neal, defense counsel.

The list follows:

Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, professor of zoology, Columbia University, author of "Evolution of Religion" and "The Earth Speaks to Bryan" and of numerous papers on the relation of science and religion.

Dr. Edwin Conklin, professor of biology, Princeton University, author of "Direction of Human Evolution," member of the Congregational Church.

Michael Pupin, professor of electro-mechanics, Columbia University, author and inventor of the loading coils that made possible the long distance telephone.

Sunday School Leader in List.

Prof. Kirkley F. Mather, chief of the department of geology, Harvard University, author of books on scientific subjects. He is a member of the Baptist Church and superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school at Newton, Mass.

Prof. L. F. Rettger, biologist of Yale University, author of textbooks on scientific subjects and science and religion.

Prof. Maynard M. Metcalfe of the Zoology Department, Oberlin College, Ohio, author of works on evolution and zoology; long associated with Congregational churches and colleges.

Arthur M. Miller, professor of geology, University of Kentucky; lecturer and author of books on evolution and religion. Prof. Miller was Scopes' teacher of geology at the Kentucky Institution.

Henry Higgins Lane, professor of zoology, University of Kansas; author of "Evolution and Christian Faiths."

Dr. Edward L. Rice, professor of biology, Ohio Wesleyan University, author of address entitled "Darwin and Bryan" and of numerous articles on science and religion.

Dr. J. G. Lipman, biologist, Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., author of works on biology.

Dr. Ward J. Macneal, chief biologist of the Post-Graduate Medical School, New York City.

Dr. Malone said all these advisers and witnesses are active members of various churches.

Appeal for Funds.

Announcing that attorneys for the prosecution in the Scopes case are serving without compensation, Walter White, superintendent of the Rhea County (Dayton) public schools and prosecution witness, has appealed to the public for financial aid.

"I wish to call upon all who believe in the justice of our cause to make contributions and I assure them that the same will be deposited in the local banks as a separate fund and every penny will be accounted for," White said. "We represent the church and the public schools. The opposition represents science and it is much easier for them to get money than for us."

Pictorial Story of Evolution On College Wall.

By the Associated Press.
BELOIT, Wis., June 26.—Beloit College shows the pictorial story of the evolution of man in a series of 12 murals on the walls of the Lothrop Museum of Anthropology, just unveiled. The paintings were by John W. Norton of Chicago, and were a gift from Frank G. Logan of Chicago.

The prehistoric periods of the development of man start with the anthropoid type. Next are the Chellean, Moarian, Cro-Magnon, and the lake dwellers, the latter represented as fishing beside their stilted houses in the Swiss lakes. The Neolithic family is seated around a fire chipping out stone knives. Then come the Esquimaux, the Algonquians, and the Winnebagos, the latter the Indian tribes once existing in this neighborhood. The cliff dwellers are shown weaving in the shadow of their abode home. The last two are the Mayas and the Incas.

In cases beneath the pictures are archeological relics from all parts of the earth, including stone implements, crude pottery and beads said to be 75,000 years old.

ANTI-EVOLUTION BILL TO BE INTRODUCED IN GEORGIA LEGISLATURE

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., June 26.—A bill to prohibit the teaching of evolution in any school supported in whole or in part by a State appropriation will be introduced in the Georgia General Assembly by Representative Will H. Stanford of Lowndes County, he announced today. The assembly began its regular 60-day session Wednesday.

A similar bill, introduced at the last legislative session, was defeated after a hot debate.

The announcement of the new anti-evolution bill said the effect would be to "effect the close cooperation so essential to all branches of the army in battle."

"By provisions of this policy," the statement added, "infantry, cavalry, artillery, other line officers and prospective general staff officers are brought into close association with air service problems, and air service officers will learn how best to use their new arm to support the other arms."

The change in policy was said to have been prompted "by aviation developments leading to a conclusion that airline officers require such knowledge of the capabilities and limitations of the air service as to permit them using it under all conditions of battle, and to the feeling that the general efficiency of such officers will be increased by a limited amount of actual experience in the air."

Increased Pay Proposed.

To increase interest in aviation among officers the War Department has under consideration legislation giving those who take the course a flying pay status and increased Government insurance.

War Department staff officers are confident that all officers serving in the combat services, not including the air service personnel, who can pass the physical tests will take advantage of the opportunity for the training. None will be allowed to fly who fail in the physical test. The limitation of 10 hours per week for aviation duty for each has been prescribed because so many are to be trained.

"During their first 18 years of commission service, all officers who have not had aerial experience after graduating from West Point will be given an opportunity to have experience in the air."

"Initially, this opportunity will be given to all combat officers now in the army, who have been commissioned in the regular army since Nov. 11, 1918, and who were not either officers or cadets prior to that date."

The War Department plan for aviation studies for its commissioned personnel is in line with the recent policy adopted by Secretary Wilbur for the Navy. It differs from that authorized by the Navy Secretary, however, in that it provides for aviation duty for all officers now in the army who graduated from the academy or officers attending the War College at Newport, to take the 18-hour flying course.

NICHOLAS HEADS NEW ANTI-RED MOVEMENT

Staff of Former Russian Generals Gathers About Him in Paris.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York World.

PARIS, June 26.—Grand Duke Nicholas has become chief of the new anti-soviet movement—not as a Romanoff, it is declared by leaders in the new movement, but as Commander in Chief of the former Russian army.

Many members of the former Russian staff have recently come to Paris, including Gen. Denikin, who arrived from Hungary; Gen. Loukomel, former Quartermaster-General, and Gen. Koutepoff, Golovine, Chatiloff and Kvitsinsky. These are with Nicholas on a general staff.

The Grand Duke disavows any intention of becoming Czar, but says he will attempt to establish a provisional Government.

More significance seems to attach to the movement than to previous efforts in the same direction during the last few years, because of the interest shown by England and other conservative governments, due to soviet activities in Asia.

In the Russian language newspaper, Renaissance, Nicholas says European powers are afraid of the bolsheviks since their success in China and elsewhere and consider it time to act against them. He says he will try to unite all anti-soviet forces, inside and outside Russia.

Nicholas has renounced any intention of trying to force back into a Russian empire, states which have become independent since the war.

AIR TRAINING FOR ARMY OFFICERS IN ALL COMBAT UNITS

Acting Secretary Dwight Davis Approves Plan Worked Out by Chief of Staff Section.

WEST POINTERS TO GO TO FLYING FIELD

Officers Who Cannot Now Be Compelled to Fly Will Be Encouraged to Do So.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 26.—Actual flying, as well as theoretical air service training for all officers in combat army units, has been authorized by the War Department under a new aerial policy worked out by Brigadier-General Hugh A. Drum, chief of the operations section of the general staff, and approved by acting Secretary of War Dwight Davis.

Before the policy becomes fully operative a special board of officers will prepare courses of study for theoretical and practical instruction in aviation. These courses will be part of the curriculum at the various army schools, including West Point, the Army War College, the Command and General Staff School at Leavenworth, the Cavalry School at Fort Riley, the Air Service Tactical School, Langley Field, and others.

Flying Field Training.

Officers who cannot, under existing law, be compelled to fly will be encouraged to seek aerial experience. Officers in this category will be expected to take at least 10 hours of practical flying duty and they will receive credit for it in War Department records.

For cadets at West Point, the courses in both theoretical and practical aeronautics will be expanded. Members of the graduating class will receive credit for the military academy to an air service flying field to supplement the training received during the four years at West Point.

The announcement of the new aviation policy said the effect would be to "effect the close cooperation so essential to all branches of the army in battle."

"By provisions of this policy," the statement added, "infantry, cavalry, artillery, other line officers and prospective general staff officers are brought into close association with air service problems, and air service officers will learn how best to use their new arm to support the other arms."

A Protest.

REGARDING the recent raid at the Monti Cafe, 5505 Pershing, in which I was one of a group of young folks who were ordered out of the cafe for "improper dancing," as was stated in one of the papers, I wish to give my version of the affair.

We had all gathered at the cafe after a house party and took advantage of the music by dancing. It seems that the raiders did not know much about the collegiate style of dancing, in which we were engaged, but those that have already seen this kind of dancing will agree that there is nothing whatsoever improper about it.

Regarding the liquor that was found, this was not an act of our group, as there is no one that indulges in drinking. As was also mentioned in one of the papers, I wish to point out clearly the exaggeration on the part of the law enforcer. It was stated that there were about 30 youths and a like number of girls with about 35 machines parked at the curb. As a matter of fact, there were only 11 youths and a like number of girls, with only five machines. Link this exaggeration with that of the improper dancing and judge for yourself whether the truth is said about our actions.

More scandal can ensue by a raid, especially as all the girls were of the respectable type. Luckily, we were permitted to leave without any charges, but one can see where a reputation can be lowered by an act of a law enforcer.

Where is there a place for a respectable person who seeks enjoyment in the right way? RESPECTABLE.

The Parking Rules.

I HAVE been driving an express wagon eight years. Often had to carry the packages across the street or the length of the block. Tuesday I could drive right to the door, deliver the package and be in two or three minutes.

Thousands of drivers will appreciate and feel sayer if the parking law is enforced. J. S. SCOTT.

The Case of Mildred Sage.

I HAVE just read a letter in your People's Column. The writer therein seems to think that merely because the poor half-wit, Mildred Sage, killed the "nestling rattlesnake," Sam Cantelmo, that she was justified and did right according to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Where and how he arrives at this conclusion is beyond me. Possibly it was because of the sub-sister style in which the article was written or the innate tenderness of the writer himself. But it seems to me that Christ would rather have had the killing done officially instead of by a weak-willed woman. From the standpoint of the jurors in sentencing her, on the ground that she was mature enough to know what she was doing in her association with the late Sam Cantelmo, it seems justifiable and only right that she should be punished as a warning to others similarly inclined, regardless of the effects upon her immediate relatives. She had been warned, entreated and begged to break off her relationship by her relatives, so when the final crash came they should not worry. They did their part and a Christian-minded community will overlook it.

Therefore such a case as a paragon be applied, for consider, we are told, only that of the defendant, but society and the State, which ultimately loses, anyway. Remember, Mr. "100 Per Cent From A to Z," that two wrongs never make a right and this case never showed any signs that this rule would be reversed or set aside.

Protection in Forest Park.

READING of raids by squads of officers on cigar stores for paltry betting on weather forecasts, etc., would like to know if it wouldn't be far better to send those officers out to Forest Park to afford the citizens protection from the thugs who seem to be infesting it?

I formerly enjoyed walking over to the opera but would do it on a rainy day, since they found that man beaten to death, and I understand any number of holdups where the victim barely escapes with his life. Let us have more protection in Forest Park. TAXPAYER.

A Turn-Up Street.

IS there anything we people of Eichelberger street can do, or can you help us in some way? Our street is torn up, or plowed since the 12th of May. There are a few men working a day or two; then nobody is seen again for three or four days. In the meantime the people can't get in or out of the street. Nothing is done. What kind of business is this? Who is to blame for these conditions? Who has the contract? Why isn't the street made? It is an outrage. Wake up, City Hall.

EICHELBERGER.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PEACE SPEECH.

Austen Chamberlain's speech in the Commons during the "security debate" cleared up one point: The Rhineland security pact does not exist in fact and England has not engaged to maintain the frontiers of Europe as drawn by the Versailles treaty, nor has she committed herself to protect France against German aggression. This misapprehension, caused by reports of the negotiations that have been in progress for the last several weeks, was swept away. Further, the Secretary for Foreign Affairs unqualifiedly declared that the Baldwin Government would not enter upon any new commitments without the full knowledge and approval of Parliament.

As regards the security pact Mr. Chamberlain said: I beg the committee to observe that we are not discussing a treaty, that there is no treaty and no draft of a treaty in existence, but that we have before us merely a preliminary statement of principle and what the countries concerned feel it would be possible for them to undertake.

But Chamberlain, in this speech which has been described as the greatest in his career, made it plain that, in his judgment, the Rhineland security pact, or its equivalent, must be entered into and that England must assume a degree of responsibility sufficient to vitalize the pact. There can be no peace in France or Germany, in Europe, or in the world, in his opinion, until a treaty of this character is signed. He summoned history as his witness. The Rhineland, he showed, has been an immortal threat to peace, the spawning bed of war, often the roaring theater of war, and will continue this fatal mission until a policy such as is embodied in the proposed pact is formally and publicly announced.

The speaker realized that the isolationists would oppose such a policy, but he derided isolation as a futile dream. England, he said, could not keep out of Europe. In the event of war she would have to go in, just as she did in 1914. And England's case was the same as that of all other nations. There can be no real neutrality anywhere when those historic antagonists, France and Germany, strip for action.

As Chamberlain sees it, and he presented the case earnestly, the atmosphere of Europe and of the whole world would be transformed by such an agreement. The necessity for such a transformation was eloquently portrayed. Today, six years after the war, the psychology of Europe is bitter, ugly, ominous. Efforts have been made, which he reviewed briefly, and the sincerity of which he acknowledged, to change this temper, but they have failed. In consequence vast military establishments are maintained which point unerringly to a new disaster. But once let France and Germany be both guaranteed security against the megalomania of either and a new world situation would be created. Out of this situation a constructive program seems practicable carrying the prospects of enduring peace. Chamberlain believes the successful negotiation of the Rhineland security pact will make reduction of armaments not only possible but the next order of world business. The present British Government is ready for further reduction in naval armament and he thought the United States, because of the Washington conference, should logically call such a conference. The motion to reduce land forces should come from some nation with a big army. Though he did not mention France, of course, was the nation referred to, and France, he argued, might well and gladly initiate the movement once the peril to her safety was removed.

The Chamberlain speech is the frankest ministerial utterance since the war. The Foreign Secretary's judgment may or may not be sound. The healing potency of the remedy he prescribes may be doubted. It was challenged by one former Prime Minister, Ramsay MacDonald, and questioned by another, Lloyd George, who appeared confused as to precisely what Chamberlain was trying to negotiate. But as a passionate avowal of peaceful purpose the speech is impressive. It is a striking declaration of the Baldwin Government's willingness to face facts and to do its full part in reducing the liability of war and promoting good will throughout the world.

THE COMEBACK OF A GREAT RACE.

Well, fellow Nordics, it looks as if there is something in the good old theory, after all. The doctrine that we are a calm, steady, pertinacious and superior race—a doctrine which we have propagated with great industry and care—may still hold water. The outlook for us was rather bad the other day when our tribal champion, Eddie Held, blew out at North Hills and took an awful beating from the small but powerful Celt, Jimmy Manion. We were moved publicly, if sadly, to admit that there seemed to be a bad leak in our pet hypothesis.

But Eddie came right back at Kansas City and redeemed himself and, let us hope, the Nordics generally. He won the State championship, and beat the man who beat Manion. To do it, he had to sink a 30-foot putt on the last green for a birdie. There's Nordic grit for you. Is it not possible that this, rather than the tragic debacle at North Hills, revealed our champion's true form? We prefer to think so. And what we Nordics prefer to believe, we believe. That is one of the proofs of our superiority.

All White Court needs now is a sap bucket and a pitchfork.

MACMILLAN'S ARCTIC HUNT.

When the MacMillan expedition returns from its Arctic exploration, we may hope to see some curious additions to the St. Louis Zoo, and perhaps our projected aquarium, if it is completed by that time. For the scientists connected with the expedition intend to get specimens of many creatures, of land, sea and air, that are strange or little known in less northern climes.

The naturalists may bring back knowledge, much desired, concerning the rare bow-headed whale. A specimen would be out of the question. Of birds, they hope to get white geese and the eggs of these almost extinct wanderers. They nest so far north that it is said no one has even seen a white goose egg. Then there is the blue goose, the Arctic crane, which goes from the South Pole to the North Pole every year, flying over 100 miles a day. Also the white hawk, big white rabbits which are the largest gnawing animals of the North.

Not the least curious are the lemmings, short-tailed, rodlike animals, which breed so fast that their hordes are compelled to migrate for food, consuming everything edible on their way, until, reaching the sea, they plunge in and commit suicide by the thousand.

It should be a great hunt and a great fishing trip. The pole itself appears to be the center of a barren waste, mostly cruel, death-dealing ice. But the Arctic Circle has rich fauna and, in season, a thousand things to interest the nature lover. If the expedition is a success it will vastly extend our knowledge of life in these, to us, inhospitable regions.

MR. ANDERSON'S A. P. P. P. A.

William H. Anderson, former superintendent of the New York Antislavery League, now on parole from Sing Sing Prison, where he was serving a term for forgery, is determined to save the nation in spite of itself. While he has been detained behind hampering walls this tolerance agitation has gone too far. He proposes to check its further progress by organizing a league, "offensive and defensive, to resist abject surrender in the name of a bogus tolerance, of everything vital to true religion and a genuine patriotism." The league will be known as the American Prohibition Protestant Patriotic Protective Alliance.

For those who choose to participate in saving patriotism, protestantism and prohibition through Mr. Anderson it will be necessary, of course, to carry this ponderous, pretentious, pious, prolific and prodigious, mouth-filling name at the tongue's end. Evidently anticipating this problem Mr. Anderson devised a nice arrangement of A's and P's to prop the memory. The A. P. P. P. P. A., it will be noted, consists of four solid and unflattering P's surrounded by A's, one at each end—easy, simple, soft.

We trust Mr. Anderson's announcement will arouse no ill feeling. While the ex-superintendent was doing time for failing to observe one of the secondary laws of the land—secondary to prohibition—tolerance was supposed to be held in reasonable check by another organization which chose for its favorite initial a letter other than P. Has its efficiency fallen short of his standards? Have all those converted pillow slips, those mystic rites and $10 fees been for naught? But let it be remembered that the suppression of tolerance offers a wide field. There is always room at the bonfire and the whipping post. Competition between the K. K. K. and the A. P. P. P. A. should only stimulate business and at last save the country for patriotism and all the P's from prohibition to prunes.

OTHER DAYS, OTHER MANNERS.

Supreme Court Justice Ford of New York has taken judicial cognizance of a change of manners since the '90s. In the Symington case he interposed his view that for married women to kiss other men than their husbands is not in itself evidence on which a divorce suit can be based. The Judge is a member of the old school and admits his bewilderment at the shocking of old inhibitions in the society of today, yet finds he must adjust himself to the change.

Moreover, Justice Ford expresses his belief that, despite certain signs of seeming moral laxity, the women of today are as chaste as they were years ago. In other words, he construes petting and cocktail parties merely as superficial exuberances, under which moral integrity generally is sound as ever. It is a fair and broad-minded attitude.

Social customs vary with time and geography, and the pages of history are filled with their shifts and changes. Yet living man finds it difficult to accustom himself to changes which occur during his span. He who was brought up in the stiff formality of the '90s often looks with a good deal of skepticism on the easy informality of 1925.

Justice Ford admits that his own recognition of the changes have been prone to him by his own daughters, who defend present customs. As a Judge in divorce suits, his attitude is valuable, for he will not be too easily shocked by the trivial misdeeds of defendants from whom a quick escape is being sought.

WASHINGTON IRVING RETURNS.

Washington Irving, nearly seven decades dead, is alive again. The mortal dust of America's first writer of man of international renown sleeps on the hillside overlooking Sleepy Hollow, but his fame is re-awakened, clothed with immortality. The present year is witnessing Irving's resurrection as a force in letters still vital.

A new and intensive biography, magazine articles in appraisal and appreciation, a new edition of his complete works—these are the unmistakable proofs of Washington Irving's permanency as an author to be read and remembered. The Irving revival indicates a healthy trend of human thought and feeling. The beloved old bachelor of Sunnyside was one of the great gentlemen of the realm of penmanship. He wrote simply, naturally, honestly. The cleanliness which neighbors' godliness inhered in all his work. Out of the cosmos of his learning poured a world of romance, of history, of biography, of travel record, of gently philosophic reflection.

Washington Irving wrote vividly of both Europe and America. The provincialism which afflicted in his day, and afflicts in our day, many of the American writers of East coast residence, afflicted Irving not at all. He traveled, both physically and mentally, throughout the America of his day as throughout Europe. He knew from personal observation the little old St. Louis of a century ago, the Indian country of the Southwest, the plains and mountains of the West when the West truly was wild, and he wrote of those things. He who would learn the romance and the tragedy of America in the making, from the Mississippi westward to the Pacific, cannot afford to neglect Irving, who dwelt by the Hudson.

America, so it seems, still loves Washington Irving, the unjaunty gentleman rider of an early day American Pegasus.

The A. P. P. P. P. A. sounds like a stuttered version of an old joke.

THE WORLD HAD BETTER WATCH THIS INSECT.

LA BELLE DAME SANS MERCI.

(A Parody.)

What can all these in-my-arms
When we are both together?
Can it be my lack of charms,
Or is it just the weather?

I took you out in Forest Park
And there we kissed, you asked for more.
And there I shut your wild, wild eyes
With kisses four.

I took you to the cinema,
And gave you ice-cream cones.
You looked at me as if you loved,
And made sweet moans.

I took you riding in my car,
I took you to a dance;
I bought you candy, flowers;
I took a chance.

I met your other suitors, too,
In accents meek and low
They said: "La Belle Dame Sans Merci,
Has you in tow."

LORD HOWE DUMB.

Sir: I have just come across a French magazine in which a writer, perhaps telepathically inspired by the recent lating in your columns of abundant synonyms for certain words, gave a list of French terms that have to do with "pay" or "payment." Since this list outdoes in number those your correspondents sent you, I think it interesting to give you this French collection. I regret that, because of the limitations of ordinary type fonts, a few accents will have to be omitted.

EUCLID AND THE CARDINALS.

The day's news certainly manages to lead us to a hard life. As all good and duly certified highbrows are well aware, the Higher Learning is a powerful thing, and confers an undoubted advantage on all who own it, in no matter what sphere they labor. Now, there was Dr. Branch Rickey, late manager of the Cardinals. Dr. Rickey had an academic education, and could use Latin and Greek on the diamond as fluently as English. Observing once that an outfielder wobbled as he ran bases, Prof. Rickey summoned him into the presence and flashed the question:

"What is the shortest distance between two given points?"

The honest fielder mopped his sooty brow, scratched his head, and stammered wordlessly.

"Why, where on earth is your plane geometry?" demanded Prof. Rickey. Anger and indignation finally broke through the wonderment on that suburban countenance.

"I come here to play ball," was the wrathful reply. "I never had any schooling. I don't know nothing about plane geometry, and I don't care a damn about it, but I'm hittin' .334 and feelin' $5, and if that ain't good enough for you, why, the Giants would be glad of the chance to buy me."

Nevertheless, Mr. Rickey was an erudite man, and by all proper rules his culture should have been too much for such tykes as McGraw and McKechnie. Strangely enough, the Cards remained in last place.

Then enter Mr. Hornsby. Honest Rogers was never one to toy with calculus, or language in the shadow of a Grecian urn. A forthright soul, rather, who clung boldly, if hesitantly, to the doctrine of mauling the old apple, and keeping the stakes open when sliding for second, in order to insure undisputed right of way. He knew Euclid only as 4900 west, and couldn't quote a line from Marcus Aurelius. Yet since this simple soul took charge, the Cards have won 14 and lost 9, and have climbed from eighth place to the top of the second division.

These, brother academicians, are hard and disagreeable facts. It is fortunate that we possess the learning which enables us to ignore them. And, ah, even then it is difficult.

Sir: The shocking casualty list by drowning every Sunday of St. Louis folks is something of a surprise, as well as regrettable. It is larger than in all the rest of the State together. This you cannot attribute to a fact that more St. Louis people go bathing than all the rest of the State, for they do not. There are a thousand old swimming holes up and down the sunny streams in the State at large, all of which are patronized largely. Not only on Sunday, but on other days. The conclusion seems to be that St. Louis people are lacking in that quality of good hard and fact common sense, that characterize country folk.

The man or boy in the country who is not a good swimmer has the same respect for deep water that they have for fire.

SELAN K.

Sir: As an outraged citizen, I rise to ask: Why this conspiracy of silence against Brigadier-General Vice President Dawes? Is it because his place as the court clown has been taken by Nervous Nellie Kellogg? PRO BONO CEPHALIS.

The MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to represent without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.
From the Nation.

NORMAN THOMAS, in the editorial voice which he sends to labor papers in the League for Industrial Democracy, makes the Shanghai situation vivid: "The new state that in a time of American weakness, Japanese, Chinese, British and other nations forced upon this country through the port of San Francisco was turned over to them to govern. Suppose these various nationalities ran the city as a stock company with all Americans excluded from the franchise and foreigners themselves voting according to the amount of money they had invested. Suppose they then posted in the public parks signs reading 'No dogs or Americans allowed.' Suppose they started mills and factories where the worst of hours and wages prevailed. Suppose that the long-suffering Americans employed in the Japanese mills found their work reduced to a minimum, and their leaders were railroaded by the alien government of capitalists to jail. Suppose then that Americans, led by students, conducted a great mass demonstration against the Japanese mills, without firing a shot, suppose that British troops in the employ of the British flag upon the crowd killing several of the student-leaders—would you expect Americans generally to side with the foreigners of their own country?"

This is, he says, the case in Shanghai. He has seen with his own eyes the exclusion of Chinese and dogs from the public parks. And yet our papers tell us that the Chinese outbreak is all the work of "soviet agents!"

AGE AND YOUTH IN CANADA.

From the Toronto Star.
ON May 2 the Woodstock Sentinel-Review commented on the increasing tendency of the old to take part in the young people's festivities, and said: "Twenty years ago most of the boys of 50 years of age could be found sitting by the fireplace with their feet on a stool, figuring how many laps they had on the undertaker. Today they are occupying their leisure time learning the latest intricacies of the tango."

On the same day, in the other end of the province, the Kingston Standard bewails the decreasing tendency of the old to take part in the younger people's festivities, and said: "In the days when young and old mingled together, it was certainly pleasant to see the old people taking their place for instance, in the square dances, and it may be said, in many instances, dancing with a grace and enjoyment at least equal to that of the young people." Our Woodstock and Kingston contemporaries appear to be at loggerheads on this important issue, but there is really a very simple explanation. Young people are so old nowadays that when the Sentinel-Review saw them dancing it thought they were at least 50. On the other hand, old people look so young nowadays that when the Standard inspected the ballroom floor it could not discern a single elderly person.

CHANGE PROPOSED IN INHERITANCE TAX

Chairman Green Would Give Credit on Federal Rolls for Amount Paid State

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—A statement issued by Representative Green of Iowa, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, takes issue with President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon on the advisability of a Federal tax on inheritances. He is opposed to levying that tax exclusively to the states.

"The ease with which a state tax on inheritances can be avoided by simply taking up a residence in either Florida or the District of Columbia, where a large portion of the wealthy people now have homes," Green declared, "makes it entirely impracticable to abolish the Federal tax on estates of decedents, and I am opposed to its abolition for other reasons as well. The end that should be sought is to prepare the law that, instead of there being an opportunity to escape it on the part of those who most ought to pay, the tax should be uniform, or nearly so, throughout the whole country."

Green said that a step in that direction already had been taken by the incorporation in the present law of his "proposition that any taxes paid the states might be credited on the Federal tax to the extent of 25 per cent thereof, and the State of New York has already taken advantage of this provision by so adjusting its taxes on inheritances that this State will receive several million dollars more in revenue without any additional taxes being paid by its citizens."

"This allowance," he added, "should be increased at least up to 50 per cent, and I favor allowing a credit for the full amount paid the state, contingent upon the state whose citizens get the benefit thereof abandoning any tax on property forming a part of the estate of a nonresident decedent."

"Besides making the tax uniform everywhere, this plan would enable the states to make full use of the inheritance tax and at the same time make much lower the total amount of Federal and state tax paid. Eventually this would make a large reduction in the national revenues and possibly wipe out the Federal tax entirely, as the amount of the Federal tax would be approached the amount collected by the Federal Government."

CHAPEL DEDICATION AT EPISCOPAL OUTING FARM

Exercises to Be Held Sunday at Tract Near Jefferson Barracks. Donated by F. W. A. Vesper. The chapel of St. Francis of Assisi, dedicated by the Rev. E. S. White, will be the scene of the summer outing farm of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Communion, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The camp is near Jefferson Barracks on the Federal Farm. It was given by F. W. A. Vesper in memory of his mother. It is used for outings of children and is in the care of the church parish, and this year there are over 50 babies and children of the free day nursery and under the kindergarten of the Church of the Holy Communion with their mothers at the camp.

The chapel was built by men of the parish who devoted their week ends and holidays to the work last summer, there being no paid labor. Back of the altar a big window has been set in, giving a view of the surrounding hills, and over the window is the inscription, "I will live as Jesus lived, in the life of service and love."

At the cemetery church, the Rev. Heflin, Alabama, and Walsh of Montana, and a group of friends of the services were opened up.

BRIEF FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR SENATOR LADD

Body Placed in Vault after Eulogies by Senators Walsh, Hoffman and Frazier.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—After brief funeral services and eulogies by some of the former colleagues in the Senate, the body of Senator Edwin Freeman Ladd, who died Monday at Baltimore, was placed yesterday in a vault at Glenwood Cemetery, where it will remain until Mrs. Ladd is able to accompany it to the place of final rest. Whether that will be at Fargo, N. D., or the birthplace of the Senator in Maine is yet to be determined.

Conducted by the Rev. J. J. Muir, chaplain of the Senate, the funeral services were held at a private chapel of an undertaker on Pennsylvania avenue.

Besides Mrs. Ladd and other members of the immediate family, those attending the funeral were Senators Frazier, North Dakota; Dale, Maine; Broussard, Louisiana; Hefflin, Alabama; and Wheeler and Walsh of Montana, and a small group of friends of the family. The services were opened with prayer. At the cemetery chapel eulogies were spoken by Senators Walsh, Hefflin and Frazier.

MELLON BOUGHT WINE CELLAR AT CAPITAL, SAYS ATTORNEY

Antiprohibition Society Counsel
Tells Paris Congress U. S. Law
Is Faulty.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 26.—Chauncey Hackett, general counsel of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment of Washington, D. C., was the chief speaker at the sixth congress of international antiprohibition organizations yesterday. Fifteen nations were represented, in addition to the United States.

"Prohibition does not exist in America," he declared, "or rather, it does not function. It has changed social customs, but has not lessened social drinking."

"The officials themselves do not obey it. Even the present Secretary of the Treasury, charged with the enforcement of prohibition, is obliged, in order to serve wine on his table, to violate the law, which he has done either personally or through agents, by buying cellars of Washingtonians who, under the law, are not able to take out of the District of Columbia alcoholic beverages. I know that Mellon has done this, because he bought red wine that I wanted to get myself a few years ago."

The delegates were overjoyed at the reference to the situation in the District of Columbia and at the statement that "prohibition does not inspire the respect of the average citizen; officials, Congressmen and judges break it."

"The present prohibition laws," he continued, "are costing the United States over $1,000,000,000 a year. The repeated demands that France pay its war debt to the United States may be regarded to a certain extent as a request that France assist the United States in meeting the expenses of prohibition."

2330 CHILDREN TREATED AT FREE DENTAL CLINICS

The Red Cross free dental clinics in the Central High, Peabody and Tausig Open-Air Schools gave 11,866 treatments to 2,330 children in the school year, just closed, according to the report made yesterday by the St. Louis Chapter, Red Cross. The clinics are entirely free to the children, who come from all parts of the city, and are sent after examinations by school nurses. None is accepted who can pay for treatment, as the clinics are operated for poor children.

The clinics were established by a prominent St. Louis dentist who had made a long study of school children's health in regard to the condition of their teeth, and as a result there has been marked improvement in both the physical and mental standards of the children treated. Money to start the first clinic was given by George A. Meyer, chairman of the board of the International Bank of St. Louis, who financed the work alone for three years. The Red Cross then co-operated in the work, and the expenses of the three clinics are now divided between the Red Cross and Meyer.

St. Louis Pilgrims in Rome.

ROME, June 26.—An American pilgrimage, led by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, today began the Holy Year visits to the basilicas of St. Peter, St. Mary Major, St. John Lateran and St. Paul, without the walls. The pilgrims will be received by Pope Pius next Tuesday.

$6,000,000 PUT IN PALESTINE LAND BY JEWISH FUND

$774,000 Spent in Drying Up Swamps, Road Building and Installing Water Supply.
Correspondence of the Associated Press.

JERUSALEM, June 2.—The Jewish National Fund has invested almost $6,000,000 in the purchase and improvement of land in Palestine from October, 1920, to April, 1925, approximately the period of Sir Herbert Samuel's administration as High Commissioner, according to a report issued by the world headquarters of the fund here.

Of this money, $5,194,440 was spent in the purchase of agricultural and urban land and $774,150 in land improvements, including the drying up of swamps, road building, water supply installation and building loans to new settlers.

Twenty-nine of the 43 colonies established by the Palestine Foundation Fund (Keren Hayesod) during this period were built on land purchased by the Jewish National Fund. This includes the dozen colonies thus far established by the Palestine Foundation Fund as part of its colonization scheme in building up the valley of the Jezreel.

Both the Jewish National Fund and the Palestine Foundation Fund are financial agencies of the World Zionist Organization, the former being a land-purchasing agency, and the latter engaged in the principal constructive enterprises such as agriculture, education, public health and promotion of trade and industry, aimed at the rebuilding of the Jewish Homeland. More than 60 per cent of the $5,000,000 spent by the Palestine Foundation Fund in the Holy Land was contributed by American Jews.

CARDINAL CELEBRATES JUBILEE

St. Peter's Chapter Attends Ceremony for Merry Del Val.

ROME, June 26.—The episcopal jubilee of Cardinal Merry del Val, Secretary of the Congregation of the Holy Office, was celebrated yesterday at St. Peter's. Exceptional simplicity prevailed owing to the recent death of the Cardinal's mother. The entire chapter of St. Peter's gathered to present greetings to the Cardinal and accompanied him to the altar chair of the great basilica to celebrate mass. Thereafter a te deum of thanksgiving was sung.

It is almost unprecedented in the history of the church that a man who is not yet 60 years of age should have held such important positions as has Cardinal Merry del Val. He was not 37 years old when he was created Cardinal. As Papal Secretary of State, he had under him the present Pontiff who then was a simple canon at St. Peter's.

Mrs. Morgan's Condition Better.

SPECIAL to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 26.—Renewed hope for the ultimate recovery of Mrs. J. P. Morgan, wife of the financier, who has been in a state of coma since a week ago Sunday, was expressed when she made excellent progress yesterday. Mrs. Morgan yawned for the first time since losing consciousness, leading to the belief she is about to awake from her "sleep." As a result of his wife's improvement, Mr. Morgan visited his office for the first time since her illness.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.

FROM THE NATION.
NORMAN THOMAS, in the editorial service which he sends to labor papers from the League for Industrial Democracy, makes the Shanghai situation vivid: "Suppose that in a time of American weakness Japanese, Chinese, British and other foreigners forced upon this country treaties under which the port of San Francisco was turned over to them to govern. Suppose these various nationalities ran the city like a stock company with all Americans excluded from the franchise and foreigners themselves voting according to the amount of money they had invested. Suppose they then posted in the public parks signs reading 'No dogs or Americans allowed.' Suppose they started mills and factories where the worst of hours and wages prevailed. Suppose that the long-suffering Americans employed in the Japanese mills finally struck and their leaders were railroaded to jail. Suppose then that Americans, led by students, conducted a great mass demonstration against the Japanese mill, but without firing a shot. Suppose that Indian troops in the employ of the British fired upon the crowd killing several of the student-leaders—would you expect Americans generally to side with the foreigners or their own countrymen?"

This is, he says, the case in Shanghai. He has seen with his own eyes the sign excluding Chinese and dogs from the public parks. And yet our papers tell us that the Chinese outbreak is all the work of "soviet agents."

AGE AND YOUTH IN CANADA.

FROM THE TORONTO STAR.
ON May 2 the Woodstock Sentinel-Review commented on the increasing tendency of the old to take part in the younger people's festivities, and said: "Twenty years ago most of the boys of 50 years of age could be found sitting by the fireplace with their feet on a stool, figuring how many laps they had on the undertaker. Today they are occupying their leisure time learning the latest intricacies of the tango."

On the same day, in the other end of the province, the Kingston Standard bewailed the decreasing tendency of the old to take part in the younger people's festivities, and said: "In the days when young and old mixed together, it was certainly pleasing to see the old people taking their places, for instance, in the square dances, and it may be said, in many instances, dancing with a grace and enjoyment at least equal to that of the young people." Our Woodstock and Kingston contemporaries appear to be at loggerheads on this important issue, but there is really a very simple explanation. Young people are so old nowadays that when the Sentinel-Review saw them dancing it thought they were at least 50. On the other hand, old people look so young nowadays that when the Standard inspected the ballroom floor it could not discern a single elderly person.

ORDINANCES FOR WIDENING OF THREE STREETS ARE APPROVED
Citizens' Bond Body, Short of Quorum, Takes Informal Action on Appropriations.
The Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday informally approved three proposed ordinances appropriating $143,510 out of bond issue funds to pay a portion of the cost of reconstructing and widening three major thoroughfares. Only eight members of the committee were present at yesterday's meeting, and as nine constitute a quorum, only informal approval was voted, subject to the action of the members at a later meeting.

The measures informally approved are for the reconstruction of Cass avenue, from Broadway to Glasgow avenue, with recut granite blocks, $78,500; Franklin avenue, from High street to Jefferson avenue, reconstruction with recut granite blocks, and the widening of the roadway from 10 to 16 feet by taking three feet off the sidewalk on both sides of the street, $40,810; and for the reconstruction of Easton avenue, from Prairie avenue to Marcus avenue, with vitrified brick and the widening of the roadway from 10 to 16 feet by cutting three feet off the sidewalk on both sides of the street, $21,200.

As there has been plenty of money, honestly handled, it is thoroughly up-to-date and has the best college library in China. The grounds are those of a Manchian prince, and his house and gardens are kept up. We lunched there with President Tsao, and had a fine Chinese meal.

"Then we 'did' the Summer Palace, which is mostly the creation of the Empress Dowager. The park and buildings are charming, of course, except that the Empress wouldn't much care to have coolies selling soda water on her front lawn. The so-called 'marble boat' (which is mostly wood) is a frightful monstrosity—the one blot on a beautiful spot."

Joplin School Bond Issue Loses.

FORMER ST. LOUISAN

HEAT WAVE VICTIM

Francis Ahlers, Ex-Washington U. Instructor, Found in New York Park.

By Licensed Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 26.—One of the strangest cases of a victim of the heat wave of three weeks ago was brought to light yesterday when Sgt. James Haggerty of the Kingsbridge Road Police Station found a hatless man in soiled clothing wandering through Van Cortlandt Park.

He could not explain how he happened to be in the park and asked Haggerty's assistance in getting to the home of Dr. Paul Allen in Chappaqua, N. Y., where he had been staying. Papers in his pockets showed he was Francis Ahlers of St. Louis.

From Dr. Allen it was learned that Ahlers had been a teacher in the department of English literature in Washington University and had come to visit him and recuperate from a nervous breakdown.

About three weeks ago, in the midst of the severe hot spell, Allen said, Ahlers had gone to New York on a business trip. He did not return and Allen said he had been trying to get trace of him ever since.

All that Ahlers remembers, Dr. Allen said, is that he started for the river in the hope of finding a cool place. The next he remembers is talking to the policeman in Van Cortlandt Park.

Ahlers was an instructor of English at Washington University for two years, leaving here last fall because of failing eyesight. He is unmarried and resided at 5614 Clemens avenue while in St. Louis. He is a graduate of Harvard University.

THREE MEN ARE TAKEN IN CHASES AFTER HOLDUPS

Two Confess Robbing Couple in O'Fallon Park, the Other, an Ex-Convict, Identified by Merchant.

Three holdup men were arrested last night, after chases. One is an ex-convict, while the other two assert their last holdup was also their first one.

Frank Geisler, 21 years old, of Webster Groves, and Miss Grace Polette, 18, of 3437 Texas avenue, were seated on a bench in O'Fallon Park at 10:15 o'clock last night, when two men, one with a revolver, ordered them to stand up. Geisler was robbed of two pocketbooks and two rings and Miss Polette of a wrist watch.

The victims followed the robbers on foot to Adelaide and Florissant avenues, where they met Patrolman Edward Sullivan. He chased the robbers, and they separated. Three shots fired by Sullivan attracted Detective-Sergeant Barney Verheyen and his son, Albert, a Police Department mechanic, from their home, 2116 Adelaide, and they pursued one of the robbers to Grand boulevard and Adelaide, where they caught him. He said he was Elwood Dye, 20, of 1902A Bacon street, and named his companion as Charles Kimes, 28, of the same address.

Companion Also Confesses. Kimes was arrested an hour later at that address, and also confessed. The wrist watch was found on Dye, and the pocketbooks were recovered from a sewer, where Kimes had thrown them. The rings, which Kimes admitted throwing away in the chase, were not found. The revolver was in a drawer at their home. Dye and Kimes said it was their first "job."

A man who hired a Yellow taxi cab to take him to a confectionery at 3801 Page boulevard, held up and robbed the proprietor, Charles Miller, of $25, and then fled on foot without paying the taxi cab chauffeur, Eugene Morrissey, at 9 o'clock last night. Morrissey reported the matter, and described the robber. At 10 o'clock a man of the same description hired a Yellow taxi cab, driven by Walter Kavanaugh, at Grand and Delmar boulevards.

As Kavanaugh drove past Traffic Policeman Frank Gehl at Grand and Washington boulevards, he shouted, "I've got a 'redhot' inside," whereupon the passenger got out and ran. Three shots were fired before he was captured at Grand and Olive street. He proved to be Donald Maher, 24, ex-convict. Miller identified him as the robber.

Robbed on Art Hill. At 2:15 a. m. today Thomas Harrington, 3445A Utah street, and Miss Lillian Gorman, 4158 Cote Brillante avenue, were in his Buick roadster on Art Hill Forest Park, when two men held them up and robbed Harrington of $20 and the car.

At 4:20 a. m. two men held up William Mills and William Burnett in the Sandwich Shop, 5715 Delmar boulevard, and escaped with $33. At 5:40 a. m. a negro with a revolver and a white man with a piece of iron held up Sam Burnstein in his grocery at 1238 Morgan street, hit him on the head and escaped with $150.

Five Other Store Holdups. Four drug stores and a confectionery were held up within an hour last night by two armed men, believed to have been the same in most cases. The robberies, starting at 9:50 o'clock, were: drug store of Otto H. Kopp, 5901 North Market street, Kopp and wife held up and $47 taken from cash register; drug store of Henry Sum, 3198 South Grand boulevard, cash taken from register, a watch from Sum, a watch and $10 from Jerry Lindeman, a customer, and a watch and $8 from Henry Rothermich, a customer; drug store of William Graul, Cherokee street and Nebraska avenue, Graul and 10 customers held up and $50 taken from register; drug store of Louis Steinhilber, 2201 Cherokee street, Steinhilber, a clerk and A. E. Klug, a customer, held up, and a watch taken from Klug and cash from the register; confectionery of Christ Koshoff, 2501 South Twelfth street, $14 from register, $10 from George Higgs, a customer, and $1 from Walter Favers, a customer. At 12:30 a. m. an armed negro held up Charles Boyle, 3546 Manhattan avenue, as he was in an automobile at 5570 De Giverville avenue, and escaped with $150. Fred Springer, 5210 Bancroft avenue, delivery boy for the Knight Drug Co., reported he was robbed of $15 by an armed man at Mack and Bancroft avenues at 9:30 o'clock last night.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
TELEGRAPHERS GET INCREASE
General President of Order Says Revised Wage Scale Probably Includes Two Cents Raise.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Negotiations for revision of the ages and working conditions of the 6000 telegraphers of the Pennsylvania Railroad System have been brought to a "successful conclusion," the company announced yesterday. Details of the revision were not announced.

The negotiations resulting in an adjustment of wages and working conditions for telegraphers of the Pennsylvania system were not carried on through the Order of Railroad Telegraphers which claims a membership of 5000 operators on the Pennsylvania system alone, according to E. J. Manion, of St.

Louis, general president of the order. "The negotiations were conducted by a 'hand-picked' group of operators, who are not members of the order," Manion said. "We started to conduct the negotiations, but had to take the railroad before the United States Railroad Labor Board at Washington. The Pennsylvania, however, refused to abide by the rulings of the Labor Board, except with regard to working conditions, and picked its own committee of telegraphers with whom the negotiations were carried on."

Manion said he understood the increase in wages was two cents an hour. "The increase should have been nearer 10 cents," Manion said. "Until this increase was granted the pay of Pennsylvania telegraphers was 60 cents an hour, while on other roads it ranges from 55 to 70 cents. While I am glad the men received an increase I think Pennsylvania system telegraphers should be paid as much as operators on other roads."

The revision of working rules mentioned provides for an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime, Manion said.

You Can Depend on Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Stalling on hills—lapse of power—lazy response—are no part of the Red Crown program. The man with Red Crown in his motor tank has anticipated emergencies and provided against them.

Red Crown is distinctively the scientific gasoline. It is built to accurate specifications, designed to overcome definite driving difficulties which confront motorists.

Red Crown's unbroken chain of boiling point fractions means a steady, dependable flow of power from the initial to the end of the chain.

The additional power fractions of Red Crown mean economy—more miles to the gallon. There's no reason why you should not increase your mileage and perceptibly decrease your monthly gasoline bills, if you will fill up with Red Crown.

FRENCH CABINET APPROVES BIG CURRENCY INCREASE
Provides for New Advances by Bank of France and Gold Parity Bonds.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 26.—Finance Minister Caillaux's plans for payment of maturing bonds provide for an increase of 6,000,000,000 francs in both the circulation and the Bank of France's advances to the state, and for the issuance of gold parity bonds exchangeable for the national defense bonds having a maturity in July and September.

When the national defense bonds are redeemed by the old gold parity bonds at the maximum of the state's floating debt will be fixed at the amount existing on the day the bond subscriptions are closed. The Caillaux bill fixes the circulation of bank notes at 51,000,000,000 francs, instead of 45,000,000,000 and the advances to the state by the Bank of France, at 22,000,000,000 francs instead of 26,000,000,000.

The bill gives the Government the right to fix the extent of the new gold bond issue by Government decree.

Caillaux's measures were approved at a full Cabinet meeting today under the chairmanship of President Doumer.

The Cabinet decided that the Senate, which adjourned until Monday, should be convoked by telegraph so the measures could be rushed through Parliament before the opening of the Bourne next Monday.

League Commission to Hear Appeal of the Reheboths.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., New York World and Post-Dispatch.
GENEVA, June 26.—Two protests against the British and French administration of mandates are among matters to be discussed at sessions here of the permanent mandate commission, beginning today.

The Reheboths are asking the commission to restore the self-government they enjoyed under the Germans, which the Union of South Africa revoked, despite war promises. Complaints against the British concern unorthodox Jews, who are protesting against the program of the Zionists. Arab tribes of Syria charge their rights have been usurped.

CONTRACTOR ENJOINED FROM DROPPING BRICKS AND DEBRIS

A temporary injunction was issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Miller against the Fred Schmitt Real Estate and Investment Co. to prevent workmen employed in the erection of the St. Louis Theater, Grand boulevard and Morgan street, from dropping mortar, bricks and debris on the adjoining property of the Schmitt Investment Co. The Schmitt company has the contract for the brickwork of the theater.

C. H. Brooks, president of the Schmitt company, complained that during the erection of the east wall of the theater various materials dropped to workmen have been falling on his property at 2512 Morgan street. He also made complaint of scaffolds overhanging his property. The Schmitt company told the court the building was being erected with modern equipment and that ordinary precaution was being taken to prevent materials falling onto the adjoining premises.

In regard to the scaffolds, Judge Miller decided that one hanging from the southeastern portion of the wall, if properly protected, could remain, because it was impracticable to complete the wall by other means, but no other scaffolds shall be used on other sections of the wall in a way to interfere with plaintiff's company. Incidentally, the court assessed a fine of $250 against the Schmitt company for violating a temporary restraining order issued when the injunction suit was filed, June 5.

ST. LOUIS RESPONDS TO LEGION
DRIVE TO RAISE $125,000

Subscriptions Reported Thus Far
Indicate Campaign Goal Will Be Reached

St. Louis is responding to the appeal for subscriptions to the American Legion Endowment Fund for war orphan relief and soldier readjustment, indicating the drive to raise the city's quota of $125,000 will be successful, it was reported at a meeting of the Campaign Committee at the American Annex Hotel yesterday.

Among the subscriptions announced were: Special Gifts Committee—Nugents, $750; Soppefeld's, $200; Hess & Culbertson, $100; Greenfield's, $100; and Women's Division—Mrs. Charles Wiggin, $250; Mr. and Mrs. James M. Francis, $100; Mrs. Lon O. Blocker, $100; Miss Mary Linnberger, $50; Mrs. Charles Nagel, $50; and Mrs. Nat Brown, $25.

Forest C. Donnell, attorney, addressed the workers, saying that, inasmuch as St. Louis had subscribed more than $150,000 for war orphan relief in Germany, he was confident the subscription of $125,000 as St. Louis' quota for relief of American war orphans was assured. He described the help the Legion is giving disabled veterans in obtaining just compensation from the Government.

CITY LICENSE ROUNDUP OF
AUTOISTS IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Apparently Nearly Half of 10,000
Expiring Until July 1 When Fee
Drops From $2.50

East St. Louis police today began a roundup of motorists without city licenses. Chief of Police Barry estimates there are 10,000 automobiles in the city, although only 5100 licenses have been issued. The licenses cost $5 now, and $2.50 after July 1.

By 10 a. m. approximately 2500 unlicensed motorists had been "tagged" and asked to call at police stations at their convenience. At that hour, 45 had been booked at stations and taken before Justice of the Peace Brady, who as-essed costs of $2 against each, after office of City Clerk Hallinan for $5 or which they were directed to the licensees.

FLORISSANT BANK

ROBBER GETS 5 YEARS

Edward Wilhite, 24, Convicted of Being One of Four in Holdup Dec. 18.

A jury in Circuit Judge McElhinney's court at Clayton, last night, after deliberating 45 minutes, returned a verdict of guilty against Edward Wilhite, 24 years old, of 4122 Lafayette avenue, charged with being one of four robbers who held up the Citizens' Bank at Florissant, Mo., Dec. 18, last, and escaped with about $2000 in currency and $550 in Liberty bonds. The jury fixed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary.

Wilhite, also known as "Speedy," who in 1923 was sentenced to two years for the robbery of a garage filling station, went to trial on a severance, having been indicted with three other alleged companions and two women. In whose possession the police found some of the stolen currency and bonds.

Set Up Alibi Defense.

Wilhite set up an alibi defense introducing testimony of a musician and a girl wardrobe checker, both employed in Chicago cafe, that the accused was working in the cafe on the day of the robbery.

This was refuted by William Ryan Jr. of Florissant, a customer in the bank at the time of the robbery, who positively identified Wilhite as one of the four robbers. He described how he and his brother, Elmer, were ordered by two of the robbers, at the point of revolvers, to lie on the floor of the bank, while a third robber forced the president and assistant cashier to lie on the floor of the cages while they ransacked the vault. A fourth robber was reported to have waited outside in an automobile, in which they fled.

Loot Found in Wife's Room.

The loot included bonds, which were registered, and a quantity of mutilated coins, making identification possible. Some of the bonds and coins were found in the basement of the home of Mrs. Katherine Meyers, 26, of 1507 Benton street, mother of four children, and more of the loot was found from a room occupied by Wilhite's wife, known to the police as Tess Gallagher, in a hotel at Grand boulevard and Pinney avenue. The women were indicted, along with Wilhite, Lester Barth, 26, of Benton, Mo.; Frank Smith, 23, 245 Washington boulevard, and George Merrill, plasterer, of Madison, Ill. They are under bond, awaiting trial.

LAXTON EXONERATED BY ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE

Unanimous Report Says All Witnesses Agree Garbage Removal Head Had Been Discharged

Charles L. Laxton, Superintendent of Garbage Removal for the city, was exonerated of charges of misconduct recently brought against him by a unanimous report of the Aldermanic Public Utilities Committee to the Board of Aldermen today. Most of the witnesses examined at the hearing held by the committee had made affidavits against Laxton, the report stated. It continued: "All the witnesses were employees who had been discharged for drunkenness or other infraction of the discipline of public service. It also appears that these charges were part of an effort to secure Mr. Laxton's removal that is being fostered by one who is known to be a candidate to succeed him in office. Under the circumstances the committee unanimously exonerates Mr. Laxton of the charges."

The affidavits, alleging that Laxton insisted on garbage collectors belonging to a union, holding up their pay if they disobeyed; that Laxton loaned employees money at 25 per cent interest, and that some employees obtained whiskey from him, were presented to Robert J. Kratky, Mayor Miller's campaign manager. They were gathered by C. D. Tammie, owner of a meat market at 2507 Market street, who was seeking Laxton's position for himself. Laxton denied the charges.

U. S. Discusses Jugo-Slavia's Debt.

WASHINGTON, Mo., June 26.—Coinciding with the beginning of negotiations here for funding the Italian debt to the United States, Secretary Kellogg has entered into preliminary conferences with the Jugo-Slavian Minister on the question of that nation's obligations. Administration officials expect funding negotiations with the Jugo-Slavs to be opened at a reasonably early date. The debt amounts to $65,000,000.

College Professor Resigns.

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 26.—Ashleigh P. Boles, assistant professor of horticulture at the University of Missouri, has resigned to take a position as general manager of the Mid-Mountain Fruit Co., with headquarters at Bentonville, Ark. Boles is a graduate of the College of Agriculture. He was associated with the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad in fruit development prior to his connection with the horticultural department. He also served a number of years as secretary of the State Horticultural Society of Missouri.

THREE DIE IN CHAIR FOR KENTUCKY MURDER

Trio Had Killed Man in Attempted Robbery of a Bank.

By the Associated Press.
STATE PENITENTIARY, Eddy-ville, Ky., June 26.—George Farrell, Richard Newhouse and Elmer Hall, the "Bourbon bandits," of Newport, who killed Frank Buchanan in an attempted bank robbery at Clintonville one year ago this month, were electrocuted today, one with a "goodbye" on his lips, another silently and the third protesting his innocence.

"Goodbye, everybody, God bless you all," Farrell, the first to go, said as he was taken to the death chamber at 12:28 o'clock this morning. He was given three shocks and pronounced dead at 12:42 o'clock.

Three minutes later Newhouse, the youngest of the trio and the father of two children, was brought in. He watched the preparation for his execution in silence and after being given three shocks was pronounced dead at 12:57 o'clock.

Two minutes elapsed and Hall walked in. "May I say something," he asked the warden.
Given permission, he said: "I did not kill anyone. If I have to go I'm going innocent." He walked calmly to the chair and was pronounced dead at 1:10 o'clock.

The bodies were sent to relatives at Newport today for burial.

Total $1297 62

During the last three days only $40.14 has been added to the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund, which now totals $1297.62—approximately $700 short of the amount needed for the June ice bill.

It is hoped that friends of the babies will come to their assistance, completing the month's budget early and preventing delay in the work through lack of funds.

The largest addition to the Ice Fund this week, through the efforts of children, came from a carnival and lemonade stand at 5925 Cates avenue. It netted $24 for the fund. Those who managed the affair were: Mary Louise Bowen, Virginia Smith, Virginia Morse, Martha Lois Moore, Marjorie Owen, Phoebe Weed and Violet Rooke.

Four girls conducted a lemonade stand at Keokuk and Compton and earned $5.50 for the fund. Those taking part were: Virginia Oswald, Marcella Schoen, Aurelia Struckhoff and Mildred Struckhoff.

A circus at 4548 Red Bud avenue was another activity sponsored by child friends of the babies. Milton Oonk, William Cullies, Helen Otto and Hyacinth Holtz were the workers. The entertainment added $2.50 to the fund.

Julian Jackson sent $5.14; Mrs. Joseph Yawitz, 7044 Kingsbury, forwarded $2 for her young son, Junior; $1 came from Mrs. Forrest Denson and $2 was received from an anonymous contributor who mailed the donation in an envelope of the Geo. Surmeyer Lumber Co.

Highway Construction Under Way. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 26.—The last stretch of the State highway circling the north end of Lake Taneycomo, which when finished will be one of the most beautiful scenic driveways in the State, is now being worked on. It consists of two and one-half miles of roadway running west from Walnut Shade on State Highway No. 16. The two and one-half miles is to be graded to a 26-foot width and the contract also includes the erection of a steel bridge over Bear Creek at an estimated cost of $89,000. The contract calls for completion of the work by Jan. 1, 1926. The highway will probably receive a gravel surface next year, it is said.

LEWIS BLEW HIS WESTERN BUBBLE ON $500 CAPITAL

Arrived Virtually Penniless in 1913, Then He Negotiated Big Loans Within a Few Months.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 26.—High lights in the spectacular career of E. G. Lewis, bankrupt promoter, who swung deals involving millions of dollars in St. Louis, in Los Angeles and at Atascadero, were related by Lewis in the court of Federal Judge James yesterday, during the third day's hearing on an order proceeding brought against A. R. Rutherford, trustee of the $10,000,000 bankrupt estate of Lewis.

Lewis told him he had come to California virtually penniless and had negotiated loans totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars within a few months. The promoter was called to the stand by his personal attorney, who told the court that there had been so many charges of corruption and irregularities made since the hearing was started that he wanted Lewis to tell his story in his own words.

Arrived With Only $500. Lewis talked of millions in the same way in which most persons would speak of dollars. He told how he had arrived at Atascadero, the location of his "Dream City," in January, 1913, with only $500 to his name. However, he immediately contracted to purchase a tract of land comprising 23,000 acres.

"Because of certain connections with men in the East, I managed to pay down $50,000 on this contract the following day, and then made other frequent payments until I had expended $200,000 within 90 days," the promoter said.

He stated that his home in St. Louis was in his wife's name, and that he arranged with her for a loan of $35,000 on the home, a sum which he turned into the Atascadero project. Mrs. Lewis, he said, owns their present home at Atascadero, and has property worth nearly $100,000.

The Atascadero News, one of the 13 corporations now listed as possible assets of the bankrupt estate, none of which has yet been taken over by the trustee, is published by the Woman's National Publishing Co., Lewis said. He organized this publishing concern to St. Louis, before entering his activities in California.

As an example of the trust placed in him by his creditors, numbering approximately 10,000, Lewis declared that within three weeks after the bankruptcy action was brought against him last December he had received more than $25,000 from persons all over the country.

"Some of this money was in the nature of a private loan, and some of it was a personal gift to me," Lewis explained. He declared that if the trustee should take over and sell under foreclosure proceedings the 15,000 acres comprising the Atascadero Estates, Inc., at this time, fully 90 per cent of the value of the property would be wiped out. The property, he said, would probably not bring more than the amount of the mortgage against it.

"If we are allowed to proceed with our present plan, this property will be worth $15,000,000," the promoter said. Lewis said that the World War had started the slowing up process which finally resulted in the bankruptcy action. He first borrowed $1,000,000 in 1915, two years after making his original land purchase, and additional huge sums have since been borrowed.

Denies Importing Gunmen. The promoter denied having imported gunmen from San Francisco to do away with several prominent Atascadero citizens who were attempting to halt him in his frenzied financial dealings. He said that fully 90 per cent of his creditors were solidly for him, and that these had been with him for many years, most of them being associated with him at St. Louis in his project there.

Judge James refused to permit Lewis to answer a question pertaining to the present value of some of his holdings, stating that Lewis has evidently had large visions, and his answer might be tinged by those same dreams. A. H. Wheatley, auditor of the Atascadero estates, testified that the Woman's National Publishing Co. had debts of $1,255,000, and assets of only $434,000.

Of the latter sum, $253,000 represented the value of the subscription list of a publication which ceased three years ago, he said. Judge James took under submission the matter of the appointment of a new referee to succeed W. Preston Butcher Jr. of Santa Barbara, who submitted his resignation, and stated that he would not be a party to the plan to settle the debts of Lewis. The hearing involving the tangled affairs of the estate was continued to Monday.

Kentucky Horse To Be Favorite In Latonia Derby

Ten Thoroughbreds To Go To Post in Classic Tomorrow—Record May Go.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. LATONIA, Ky., June 26.—Racing interest here today was devoted almost exclusively to the Latonia Derby, the greatest 3-year-old stakes event of the summer racing season. A field of 10 thoroughbreds have been named to go to the post tomorrow.

The field will consist of Flying Ebony, Kentucky Derby winner, Sweep, Captain Hal, King Nadi, Broadway Jones, Millwick, Caracul, Step Along, Deeming, Progress and Old Slip.

The classic will be run over the regular Derby route of a mile and a half.

From present indications the track will be fast.

Flying Ebony will carry an impost of 126 pounds, Millwick, winner of the Ohio State Derby, will be given an impost of 121, while the other colts will carry 118, and the filly Deeming 114.

Record May Be Broken.

There is possibility that the record of 2:10 1/5, established by Childeless last year will be broken.

An analysis of the various work-outs indicates that Captain Hal should be favorite over a fast track.

Over a heavy or muddy track King Nadi would get the call, with Old Slip second and Flying Ebony third. The cold points to a Kentucky victory, regardless of track conditions.

Broadway Jones is the only colt to work the full distance. His time was 2:14 3/4.

Deeming had the best mile work of the day. Quarter, 24; half, 48 3/4; three-quarters, 1:14 3/4; mile, 1:30 1/4.

Captain Hal's effort was remarkable with the following fractions: Quarter, 22; half, 46 1/4; three-quarters, 1:13 1/4; mile, 1:30 1/4.

Step Along worked out a slow mile but a heavy money stake was bet on him to win the Derby.

King Nadi's best work over a fast track for the mile is as follows: Quarter, 24; half, 48 3/4; three-quarters, 1:14 3/4; mile, 1:30 1/4.

Caracul went 1 mile in 1:42 3/4, three-quarters, 1:14 3/4; half, 48 3/4; quarter, 24.

Progress worked three-quarters in 1:14 3/4.

JIM BARNES, AMERICAN

Shoots 300 for 72 Holes; Smith Finishes Fourth

Needing a 78 to Beat Barnes, MacDonald Smith Cracks at Finish.

By the Associated Press.

PRESTWICK, June 26.—Jim Barnes won the British open golf championship with a score of 300 for the 72 holes. MacDonald Smith needed a 78 to beat Barnes, but he cracked badly on the last 18 and took 42 going out, and failed to make the 36 coming back that he needed to beat Barnes. Smith's final card was 82, for a total of 303.

Barnes' fourth round card follows:

Veteran Ray Shoots 301.

The veteran, Ted Ray, with a fine last round of 73, tied Arthur Compston for second place, each having 591.

Ray had to make a six-yard putt for a birdie two at the eighteenth hole to tie Barnes, but was a foot short of the cup.

This was the sixth successive season Barnes had come to Great Britain seeking the title of open champion.

It was MacDonald Smith's third attempt at the title.

Smith goes to pieces.

Smith lost a golden opportunity to win the title. He knew before he started that he had to go to a mole-erie 78 to win, or 79 to tie Barnes, but after doing the first two holes in par his game went to pieces.

He visited bunkers with distressing frequency, played cautiously instead of taking chances on low figures, and ultimately began missing tiny putts.

The leaders finished in this order: Jim Barnes, New York, 300; Ted Ray, Oxford, 301; Arthur Compston, Manchester, 301; MacDonald Smith, New York, 303.

Joe Kirkwood, the third American entrant, after putting himself out of the running with two poor rounds yesterday, totaling 162, shot round golf today and returned 76 for each round for a total of 311. He probably will be among the leading 10 players.

Abe Mitchell made a brilliant finish, after taking 42 for the outward nine by coming back in 35, two under par for 77. This made his aggregate 305.

Barnes played beautiful, steady golf in the final round, with the exception of two strokes, due to three putts on the tenth and driving into a difficult lie on the eighth. Otherwise, his game was flawless. He had two birdies to his credit.

Compston failed to tie Barnes 400 by missing a 10-yard putt on the last green. The North Manchester pro made a valiant attempt, but his ball ran just by the edge of the cup.

At the end of the third round Smith and Barnes, the Americans, were within five strokes of each other, with aggregates of 221 and 226, respectively. For the 54 holes Smith took 76 and Barnes 79 in this morning's round. The third American entrant, Joe Kirkwood, returned a card of 76, for an aggregate of 238.

Smith's final card was:

CUBA TO MAKE CHANGE IN ITS DAVIS CUP TEAM

By the Associated Press. HAVANA, Cuba, June 26.—Rogelio Paris, captain of the Cuban Davis cup team, which will play the Spanish team here July 3, 4 and 5, formally requested the Cuban federation to substitute Rafael Chacon for Guillermo Zalido, who injured his right wrist a short time ago. Vicente Banet is the third member of the Cuban team. Jose and Manuel Alonso and Edouard Flaque, the Spanish team, played practice games yesterday. The stands were crowded.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Johnny Merino, army featherweight champion of Eighth Corps Area, won a 12-round bout from Jerry Montez, former lightweight champion of Mexico. Montez sprained an ankle in the tenth but went on with the bout.

DAVENPORT, Ia.—Mike Danes of Rock Island knocked out Tim O'Dowd of Louisville in the opening of a 10-round bout.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Getting Together.

THE St. Louis offer of $60,000 for a Stecher-Lewis match may not be accepted. But, soon or late, this pair will get together. The sooner they do, the more suspicious the affair will seem.

Stecher nursed a grievance against Lewis for four or five years. This grievance has never been aired and cannot be, here, because of lack of legal proof. Joe was laughed at and side-stepped by Lewis for four years or so.

With all this cavalier treatment by Lewis it is not to be expected that Stecher will consent to meet Lewis so soon after winning the title. Time to harvest some kale would naturally be demanded. Only when the harvest was in and the field gleaned would Lewis be given a show, according to championship precedent.

Therefore, a match at this time might be looked upon as a show, even with a $60,000 purse to be divided two ways as the lure.

The crown cost Stecher $10,000 of his own money. It ought to be worth $100,000 to any capable man stay in these days. So, we can't see Stecher risking it for $20,000 at this time.

Which Would Win?

STECHEER and Lewis have met before. Generally speaking Stecher has had the better of their encounters, the first of which went five hours to a draw. There will be claims and counter-claims of superiority before this pair meet. Stecher seems to have the better publicity.

But you can't win a wrestling bout in the papers.

Lou Schieler's Record.

Lou SCHIELER can ride sport horses almost as hard as he used to ride his bicycle, 25 or more miles ago—and that's some punishment.

Lou hands us a dig for not according greater credit to Tip O'Neil, the famous Browns' batter of ancient days. Comment in this column recently had suggested that Tip O'Neil's mark of 400 or so was a better performance today than was Tip O'Neil's world's record of 492, made in 1887.

Lou writes in part as follows: "I think you have not given Tip O'Neil his full credit. Inasmuch as I was bat boy during the years when Comiskey's men won four pennants and during which O'Neil hung up his record of 492 (not over 500), I should know whereof I speak. The pitcher was from seven to 10 feet closer to the plate and as most pitchers' main asset, those days, was speed there were far more batters 'banned' cold making it would seem, pitching more fearsome than now.

Wolff Three Up After 18 Holes of T.-M. Semifinal

St. Louis Golfer Equals Par in Gaining Lead Over Bob McKee of Des Moines.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., June 26.—Clarence Wolff of St. Louis, by shooting par golf most of the way, today gained a lead of four up in the first 18 holes on Bob McKee of Des Moines in the semifinals of the transmississippi golf championship at the Omaha Field Club. In the other contest, Arthur Bartlett of Ottumwa, Ia., led J. O. Swick, Des Moines, by one hole at the same point.

Wolff shot spectacular golf on the first nine, breaking par by two strokes, and standing three up. He was not so good on the second quarter, taking three putts on the tenth for a bogey, losing the hole. After having the next three holes in par, McKee dropped three in a row as Wolff kept up his par figures and even bot a birdie three on the 307-yard sixteenth by holing a 12-foot putt. Wolff fell off badly on the last two holes of the morning, dubbing two shots in a row through the seventeenth fairway and pulling a long iron approach to the side of the green. McKee took advantage to win with a par five, but he was unable to get better than a bogey on the 408-yard eighteenth. Wolff was over the green in a trap with his second while McKee was short and missed a 15-foot putt for a par. Wolff, in chipping out the trap, overran the eighteenth green a second time, but managed to get down in five.

Wolff Keeps Par.

Wolff's 38 on the second nine gave him a total of 73, equaling par. McKee took 39 on both halves for a total of 78, which was the same score recorded by both Bartlett and Swick, so that Wolff, in the first round, was five strokes better than the other single finalists.

Weather conditions were perfect for golf, only a slight breeze tempering a warm sunshine. A large gallery, including many gayly gowned women, followed both matches and many more spectators were on hand to see the afternoon half of the play.

The morning card of the Wolff-McKee match:

Wolff, out—	414	444	434	35
McKee, out—	444	544	544	39
Wolff, in—	444	444	365	38
McKee, in—	444	455	455	39

Bartlett Plays Fine Golf.

Bartlett reached the semifinals yesterday by downing Dr. Teuben Albion of Minneapolis, 9 and 7, by virtue of shooting four strokes under par on the 23 holes played, and it was only when he began to sink putts from the edge of the green that the doctor gave up the contest as hopeless.

Bartlett defeated L. A. Mattson of Minneapolis, 7 and 6, in the first round, and Fred Vette of Omaha 5 and 4 in the second, so that his rather easy victories made him a favorite over Swick. All three of Bartlett's victories were gained by excellent shooting.

Wolff has also played superb golf throughout, being caught in a difficult corner of the draw, so that he had to overcome Don Anderson, subwinner of Manion, Craig McKee of Des Moines and Frank Watts of St. Louis.

Watts gives Wolff Hard Fight.

He had no easy task yesterday in overcoming Watts, for the latter shot the first nine twice in 35, or two under par.

This morning he ruled favorite over McKee, but nearly a dozen favorites of various degrees have lost out in the tourney and, with Swick and McKee playing as well as they have in various matches, any slip by the favorite today meant defeat.

RAILROADS TO PROTEST ROAD AND BRIDGE TAX THURSDAY

St. Clair County Additional Levy for Emergency Work Is Object of Objection.

County Judge Weber of Belleville will hear arguments on tax objections filed by railroads doing business in St. Clair County next week Thursday. It was announced yesterday. The railroads object to the payment of $12,864.99 as road and bridge tax. They do not object to the payment of the 50-cent flat rate, but to the additional tax of 16 cents assessed for emergency work on highways and 13 1/2 cents assessed for damage tax. The 16 cents is for any extra work necessary, and the 13 1/2 cents for any damages which may be asked by farmers as damages to their land in carrying out the road and bridge work.

In raising objection to the 16 and 13 1/2 cents taxes the railroad companies contend that the Town Board of Auditors of the various townships sanctioned the first tax at the proper time, and that in the 13 1/2-cent tax the townships did not specify in the levy that the money was to be used on other than State-aided highways. More than a dozen railroad companies are objecting.

GRAFTON (ILL.) POWDER PLANT EMPLOYEE KILLED ON TRACKS

Man, 44, Apparently Watching Engine, Failed to See Cars Take "Flying Switch."

A pedestrian was run over and instantly killed yesterday afternoon while walking along the tracks of the Alton & Eastern Railroad at its terminus at Grafton, Ill. The victim, A. Jack Powers, an employee of the Illinois Powder Manufacturing plant at Grafton, was walking along the tracks on his way to the plant. It is the custom of local mixed passenger train, consisting of engine, day coach and freight car, to reverse itself for a return journey at this place. The engine, with a running start, is switched to a "Y," as the slower moving cars pass by, to be recoupled in reverse.

Yesterday, the engine had backed onto the "Y" switch and, apparently, the pedestrian, while watching the engine's movement, failed to note the oncoming cars. A Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accident at an inquest last night. Powers, who was 44 years old, was a widower. He is survived by a son, living in Newburn, Ill., and a son and a daughter living in Kansas.

$143,156 STATE ROAD REFUND

Money to Be Used for St. Clair County Highway Improvement.

County Superintendent of Highways D. O. Thomas of Belleville yesterday received a check for $143,156.74, as St. Clair County's share of the State aid refund on highways improved as State aid roads. The refund is on the paving of the East St. Louis-Granite City road, on which work was recently completed.

Thomas turned the check over to County Treasurer Ross Adams, to be used for defraying the cost of additional road improvements in the county.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY ABSTRACT AND TITLE OFFICE PROPOSED

County Auditor to Call Attention of Board of Supervisors to Suggestion.

County Auditor George Eckert of Belleville stated yesterday afternoon that he is receiving many calls from citizens of St. Clair County, urging him to bring to the attention of the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors the fact that, under a law passed in 1903, the county can establish its own abstract and title office.

The citizens declare that the county can furnish certificates of title and abstracts at a lower price than privately owned abstract and title offices, and that in time the office, despite the lower fees, will earn money.

ALTON WOMAN LEAVES $20,000 TO HER BANKER

Relative of Miss Ariana Blaisdell, Former School Teacher, Says Will Is Fitting and Proper.

The will of the late Miss Ariana Blaisdell of Alton was probated recently, leaving C. A. Caldwell, her banker, her estate valued at $20,000. The money was willed to Caldwell without condition. Miss Blaisdell's nearest relation, Dr. James Blaisdell, president of Pomona College in California, was in Alton a few days ago and after a conference with Caldwell declared he believed it was fitting and proper that Miss Blaisdell should have made the disposal she did of the estate.

Miss Blaisdell was a former Alton schoolteacher and had retired from teaching when she was willed $25,000 just before the World War. Up to the time of her inheritance from a distant relative, Miss Blaisdell was in poor financial circumstances. After receiving the money she continued to live quietly and without any show. She was 88 years of age when she died.

YACHT CONFISCATED UNDER DRY LAW TO BE SOLD JULY 15

Sheriff of St. Clair County to Auction Boat Taken with $20,000 Liquor Cargo Last December.

County Judge W. R. Weber of Belleville yesterday entered an order setting July 15 as the date for the sale at public auction of the yacht Asp, which was confiscated in the Mississippi River, near Cahokia, Dec. 13 last, when Sheriff Schnipper and deputies made a raid on the ru.

reported he found $20,000 worth of liquor aboard the yacht. The claimant has entered his appearance to the yacht and it will now be sold under a provision of the Volstead law, which provides that any vessel or vehicle or conveyance used for the transportation of liquor may be sold, unless there is a valid claim on it and this claim is shown in court. Sheriff Schnipper will conduct the sale.

GIRL, 18, KIDNAPED BY THREE MEN IN AUTOMOBILE

Sister, W. O. Witness Act, Recognized One of Abductors as Former Suitor.

Three men in a Buick automobile kidnaped Miss Marie Vitale, 18 years old, of 2107A Mulanphy street, at 3:30 p. m. yesterday as she was talking with a sister, Miss Laura Vitale, in front of 1426 North Twenty-first street. Laura told police that one of the men threw a coat over her sister's head while the other two pushed her into the automobile. They drove north to Cass avenue and disappeared east in Cass, she said.

One of the men, Laura told police, was her sister's former suitor. Their engagement was broken last Easter, when Marie's parents objected to her marriage because of her youth. "Once are confident that the girl is abducted and then married." The youth, to whom Marie Vitale was formerly engaged, left home yesterday afternoon and failed to return last night, police report.

COPPER ORE SHIPMENTS BEGIN

First Carload From Shannon County Sent to New Jersey.

EMINENCE, Mo., June 26.—The Shawnee Copper Co., owner of the Sutton mine in Shannon County, shipped its first carload of copper ore this week to the American Metals Co., of Chrome, N. J. The ore shipped was the larger pieces of what is called free ore as taken from the mine. This was broken to small size nuggets and hauled to Winona by truck. This is the first carload shipment of copper ore ever made from Shannon County. It is claimed that Joe Slater, who is said to have operated copper properties in the county before the Civil War, shipped copper ore down Current River in flat boats to the Mississippi River and thence to New Orleans.

LOVE

CHAPTER FIVE.

When, at his very first round, he felt it at her room at all, George's room, George's room still going on. And, significantly, shamelessly, he took chairs and tables, and oil paintings, and busts, corseys, white black pedestals in corners, nobody ever really die, he himself indignantly, no end to people's in-somewhat surviving? into oak, gathered up in picture frames, the George still solidly co- with his widow. How, museum, could she off remembering him? didn't want to, or she he chuckled all this long and bright things, color, like soft things, things, about her. She didn't. She had canonized that strange way people use quite troublesome want persons once they die.

He stared round him and himself that he knew how opened—oh, yes, he could—how at the moment of death Catherine, flooded with grief, perhaps with that she was no longer love, had clung on to elements, not suffering a touch, or moved or pathetically anxious to still alive at least in his. Other widows he had had done this; and—but fewer of them—It, too. He could imagine of one loved someone very was desperately sorry be- hadn't. But to go on year? Yet, once one had low stop? There was only to ston happily and and that was to marry

When, as he was looking a nose lifted in impatient George's post-mortem and he was quite pre- see whisky and cigars dusty on some table in why not? They would in keeping with all the caught sight of a little object on the heavy sofa angles to a fireplace. He feebly flickered the of newly lit fires. A oil trace, at last, of her.

He broke across and pounced white, sweet with the he had noticed when he her, it was a small fox- ing a woman puts around

He looked up, and held it face. How like her, how He was absorbed in it, it, breathing its delicate, well; and Catherine, coming with her latchkey, saw this, over there by the his back to the door.

The Unwelcome Egg

When you're imposed upon be quick To register a lively kick.

—Mrs. Vireo.

LITTLE Mrs. Red-eye the Vireo felt much as your mother would feel if she discovered a strange baby left on her doorstep. To be sure that egg wasn't a strange baby, but unless there was some way of getting rid of it it would be a strange baby by and by unless her home and those three beautiful eggs which were really her own should be deserted. She really thought of doing this very thing. Yes, sir, she did so.

But there had been so much hard work put into the building of that dainty nest, and it was so exactly the home she wanted, that somehow she couldn't make up her mind to leave it. Besides there were those three eggs. Of course she could hatch out this un- welcome egg which someone had left in her nest, but that would mean an extra baby to feed. Mrs. Red-eye was sorely tempted to drive her bill into that egg and break it right away. But that would spoil her nest.

She tried to pick up that egg, but it was too big for her. She tried to poke it out of the nest with her bill, but the nest was just a little bit too deep. Though she tried and tried, she didn't succeed. Finally she gave up try- ing. Perhaps her own eggs would hatch out first, and then she wouldn't have to sit on that un- welcome egg and hatch it out. So with a sigh little Mrs. Red-eye resumed her household duties.

The next morning she had a fourth egg of her own in the nest, and now the nest was rather crowded. That big, unwelcome egg left there by Sally Sly the Cowbird took up altogether too much room. It made Mrs. Red-eye uncomfortable. She shifted about trying to find a more com- fortable position. In doing this she found that egg resting against one of her feet. She knew it was that egg by its size. The very feel of it caused her to lose her temper for a minute. Lifting herself slightly she suddenly kicked out and up with all her might. Really she hadn't meant to do it. It was done in a fit of temper.

And then as she settled back

Then she explained how she had kicked it out, and they both flew down for a look at it she missed something. She didn't feel that big egg. She got up and looked in her nest. There were just four eggs there and all were her eggs. Then she looked down on the ground, and there lay the unwelcome egg, broken. Excitedly she called to Mr. Red-eye. He was not far away, and he came hurrying over to see what new thing had happened to excite Mrs. Red-eye so.

"I've got rid of it! I've got rid of it!" she cried.

"What have you got rid of?" demanded Red-eye, looking puzzled.

"That egg that Sally Sly laid in our nest," replied Mrs. Red-eye. Then she explained how she had kicked it out, and they both flew down for a look at it. Afterward Red-eye sang and sang for pure joy, while Mrs. Red-eye once more sat on the eggs. And this time she had no difficulty in making her- self comfortable.

Meanwhile, unseen by Red-eye and Mrs. Red-eye, a feathered person dressed in brownish-gray, who was much bigger than the Vireo, had been spying and had seen that egg kicked from the nest. It was Sally Sly the Cowbird, and she had been watching for a chance to lay another egg in that nest. But now she suddenly changed her mind. She must find the nest of some one smaller than herself, but who was not smart enough to get rid of an extra egg.

He got up and fetched them.

Fashion's Whims

DAME FASHION is displaying her fickleness in her ever-changing dictates as to the position of the inevitable flowers. She still permits us to wear them near the shoulder, but now they must appear on the back of the shoulder, and quite the newest note from Paris says to have at least three, and more if you like, large flowers fastened on the shoulder and trailing over the back of the arm. Those large roses and pond lilies are especially effective worn this way.

If you cling to the single large flower, or boutonniere, fasten it to the scarf ends at back of shoulder—that is, if you wear the ends falling down the back, one of the smart modes.

A pretty conceit is to wear a single rose, tied closely about the neck with a narrow ribbon, having the loops and ends on opposite sides of the rose—the flowers fringing at the front left side. This mode especially adds a charming touch to the evening dress.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Brighter Fern.
About every three months the house fern will appreciate a watering containing a little household ammonia. It will make it green and glossy.

Easily Matched.

A cheap basket hung from the rafters of the cellar is nice to hold pieces of leftover wall paper. It is wise to save some of each paper used in the house. Then you are prepared for any emergency.

To Clean Silverware.

We are all glad of easier methods of cleaning silver during the summer months. Dissolve a handful of baking soda in a pan of water, put in silverware and boil until the tarnish will wash off in soapy water. Dry and polish.

A Bit New.

At a luncheon recently where the guests were well acquainted, the guests were well acquainted on her place card instead of the full name and filling out the initials were adjectives describing the girl instead of her name. For instance, one girl's initials were S. S. W. and on her card were the three words, Small, Stylish, Witty.

On Operating a Looking Glass of Life

By Winifred Black

WHAT do you read in the newspapers? You who are reading this today.

What do you read first and what do you read last and what do you like to read best of all?

"I would like to be editor of a paper just for one day," said Judge Kates of Camden, N. J.

And a good, lively, enterprising paper stepped right up to the front and named Judge Kates editor—just for one day.

What would you do with your paper if you were editor? Now, be honest about it.

Not if it was somebody else's paper and you just happened to edit it for a little while for fun, but if it was your own and you had to make a living by it—what would you put in it and what would you leave out?

What did you and your husband talk about last night after you had read the evening paper?

Were you interested in the speech of some uplifter who was telling you what ought to be some- where someday—or, honestly now, did you and your husband talk over the news from the next town about the people you know?

When you met your old friend the other day and stopped her and had a cup of tea and a sandwich with her, did she tell you that the Smiths were living together just as happily as ever, and were you excited to hear the news, or did she say, "Did you know that the Browns are getting a divorce" and were you interested in that?

It is really better news to know that the Smiths are happy—it's a better world for you, when you know that—but is there really any great news about it?

How many times had you ever heard of Verdun—before the great war?

I never knew there was such a place in my life until the French and the English and the Germans began to fight over it.

Verdun in its peace and prosperity, Verdun in its quiet beauty and rich comfort was no news—you couldn't fill up a newspaper with descriptions of it—and get people to read those descriptions.

But the minute the big guns began to boom in the vicinity of Verdun—Verdun became news.

News is something new, something out of the ordinary, something different.

How long do you think people would read your paper if you never printed anything in it except the nice, good, comfortable things that everybody knows.

Newspapers are not necessarily weapons of moral reform.

They are the looking glass of life.

If you want to see pretty things in your mirror you must put on a pretty hat and dress when you stand in front of it.

The looking glass is not to blame when you are bilious.
